

Can't fit all your stuff in your car?
We'll move it for you!
 It's close to finals time and you're worried about how to get all of your stuff home? Let the Packaging Store do it for you!

- ☑ Custom crating and packing
- ☑ We'll ship any weight
- ☑ Pick-up service
- ☑ Packaging supplies

10% off with this ad
Packaging Store.
 420-1292 • 5540 S. 56th St. 2

University Lutheran Chapel
 Presents
 Christian recording artist
BILLY CROCKETT

"Any Starlight Night"
 Sunday, April 17, 1994
 Centennial Rm., City Union
 Doors open at 6 PM
 Concert begins at 7 PM
 $6 UNL Students w/ID
 $8 Non-Students

Billy Crockett Then and Now
 • 119 Concerts with Sandi Patti
 • Currently recording with Rich Mullins

Tickets on sale now at:
 • University Lutheran Chapel, 16th & "Q" Street
 • UNL City Union, Info Desk, 14th & "R" Streets
 • Booth by Broyhill Fountain 8am-2pm Today
Come by the booth and register to win a FREE Cassette or CD and hear his great music!
 For information or special group rates call 477-3997.

Husker men, women face crucial games

From Staff Reports

Nebraska men's and women's tennis teams face an important weekend when they travel to Ames, Iowa, for matches with Colorado Saturday and Iowa State Sunday.

The men, who are 6-13 overall and 1-3 in the Big Eight, are coming off a big weekend after going 2-1 and upsetting the region's second-ranked team, Wichita State.

Men's coach Kerry McDermott said the Huskers' seed in next week's Big Eight Championships will be determined by this weekend's outcome.

The weekend is just as crucial for the women, who stand at 9-7 overall and 2-3 in the conference.

Both the men and women conclude their regular season with the matches in Ames.

Bellows

Continued from Page 7

style because of shoulder problems.

The submarine style spelled success for Bellows, who has been used strictly in relief in college.

"My game is getting ground balls and double plays," he said.

Bellows said he cherishes the role of closer.

"I love it," he said. "I get more appearances now. This way I get to throw every day."

"Coach Sanders told me at the start of the spring that I was going to be the closer if I did well."

Bellows has performed well enough to keep the job. He picked up a save against Kansas State Wednesday and two saves over the weekend in the Huskers' three-game sweep of Oral Roberts.

Bellows said he was throwing his best ball now, and the whole Husker team, with the return of All-American Troy Brohawn, was also playing well.

"We've won our last (seven) games, and we just have to take the rest of the week with the same attitude."

NU pitcher learns his art — again

By Trevor Parks
 Staff Reporter

Craig Sanders John Sanders

Nebraska pitcher Craig Sanders had to start all over after having arthroscopic knee surgery before last season.

Sanders, who suffered torn cartilage during the preseason last year, said he had to learn the art of pitching all over again.

"This past weekend, throwing in the bullpen, I picked up three or four things that I didn't remember from before," he said.

For now, Sanders said he's just happy to be on the mound, even though this season hasn't gone like he had hoped it would.

Sanders has a 1-1 record, including a win over Northern Iowa. In his five appearances, Sanders has given up 20 hits and allowed 27 walks in 17 innings.

Although he hasn't pitched a lot, Sanders said, he's starting to get in the groove.

"I've struggled," Sanders said. "(Seventeen) innings in two years is not a lot. I still need to fine tune some things that are rusty."

Sanders said he was just happy to return even though he didn't come back in top shape.

"It was fun throwing again," he said. "I appreciate practice time a little more."

Nebraska coach John Sanders, Craig's dad, said the knee surgery really set his son back.

"He's starting all over again," John said. "He's struggled in spots, but he's ready to accept that challenge."

Sanders went 3-2 with an ERA of just 3.00 in his freshman year. He struck out 34 while only giving up 17 runs in 48 innings.

"He's stayed focused, given what could be a situation," John said. "That's not something that's the easiest to do."

Craig said he hoped to turn around his performance before the season ended.

Streak

Continued from Page 7

game 14-4 and the second game 15-1.

Sanders said the Huskers could not afford a letdown against Kansas State. The Wildcats aren't as bad as they played on Wednesday, Sanders said.

But Nebraska is playing well, partly because of the return of All-American pitcher Troy Brohawn, Sanders said.

Brohawn returned to the lineup on April 1 after missing 25 games with a broken foot.

Sanders said Brohawn's presence had added confidence to the team.

"It's helped us mentally, but the main effect has been on the field," Sanders said. "We have been playing well in all phases of the game. Brohawn adds to our pitching, and on Wednesday, we played flawlessly."

In the two outings since he returned, Brohawn has pitched 14 innings; has surrendered five hits, six runs and four walks; and has struck out 21 batters.

The junior left-hander pitched six perfect innings in a 5-3 win over Oral Roberts on April 8. On Wednesday, Brohawn, 2-1, held Kansas State hitless for 5 1/3 innings in the first game of the doubleheader.

"His being here gives other people a feeling of relative security," Sanders said.

Huskers win one; 2nd game delayed

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska softball team missed a doubleheader sweep over the University of Missouri-Kansas City when the second game was suspended.

Nebraska won the first game 11-3 and was leading 9-2 in the nightcap when rain stopped play.

Just before the game was to resume, a person collapsed in the stands. Emergency personnel arrived and the game was suspended.

Muhammad

Continued from Page 7

Muhammad said, "but I felt uncomfortable because of my ribs."

His liver is healed now, he said, but the pain in his ribs persists.

Muhammad, who visited the doctor Wednesday afternoon, said he did not expect to participate in any heavy contact until fall.

"It should be OK by then," he said, "but I really don't know. I have played with pain before, but never with a serious injury."

To make up for lost time, Muhammad, who will be a senior in the fall, will spend the entire summer in Lincoln — hundreds of miles away from his home in Compton, Calif.

He spent last summer in Compton and was fortunate to return. In July, he was shot in the buttock during a drive-by shooting. The bullet, still lodged in his buttock, narrowly missed vital organs. That allowed him to make a quick recovery.

With all that behind him now, the Huskers' most productive receiver from a year ago is itching to get out on the turf.

"Everybody will be working hard this year," he said, "because we know what we have to do to get back to where we were last year. And that's where we want to be this year."

Muhammad led all Nebraska receivers last year by hauling in 25 passes for 383 yards and three touchdowns. Behind him were split end

Corey Dixon and tight ends Truman Bell and Gerald Armstrong, who all graduated.

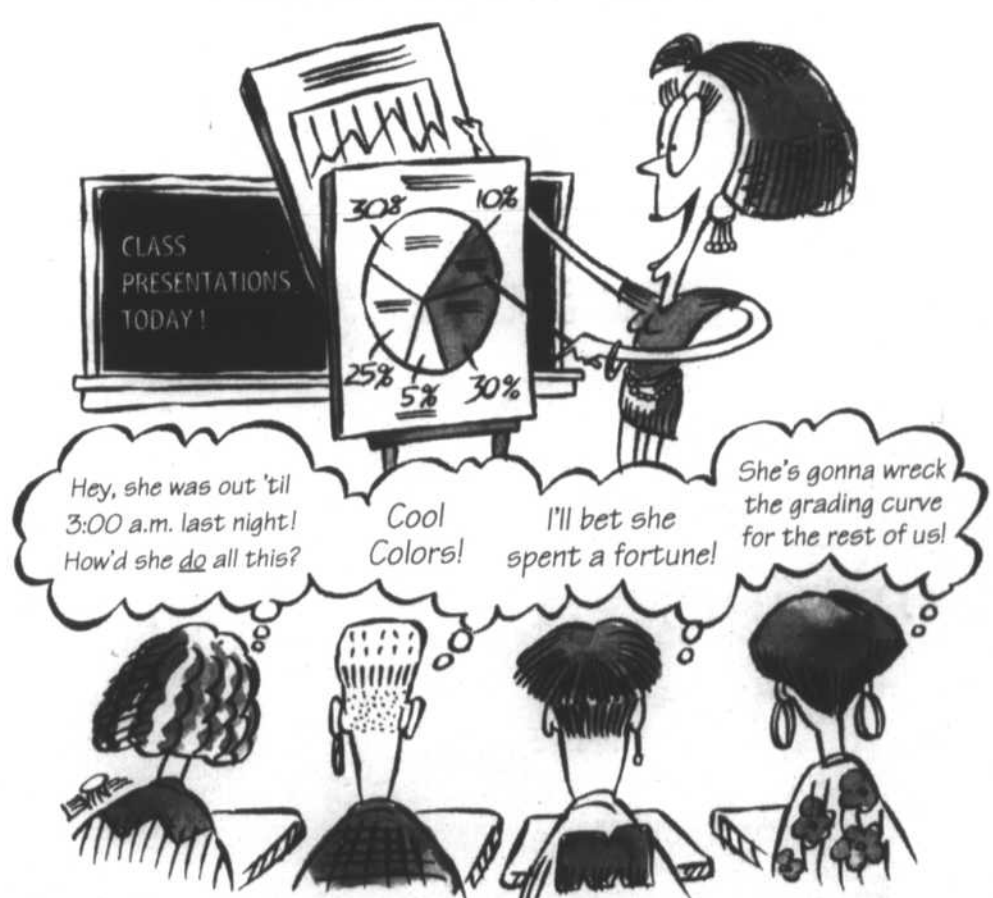

"We lose a lot just from the ability that they have to make the big play," he said.

That's not to mention their leadership in the locker room, Muhammad said.

Muhammad said he needed to add leadership to his game this season. Three juniors and two sophomores make up the rest of the top returning receivers.

"We have got a lot of young receivers this year," he said. "Those guys are going to need somebody to look up to, and I'll be there for them."

EASY AS PIE.

Relax, you made it. . .

The aimless wanderings of these students have finally ended. The mission to find happiness has been successful. You will soon have friends, fortune and fame that was promised to you. You still can join this elite group. Find your place at the. . .

Daily Nebraskan

The Daily Nebraskan is accepting applications for copy editors, photographers, news, sports and arts & entertainment staff reporters. Pick up an application in person and sign up for an interview at the DN office -- 34 Nebraska Union. Applications accepted through April 18.

UNL does not discriminate in its academic, admissions or employment programs and abides by all Federal regulations pertaining to the same.

- Open 24 Hours / 7 Days a Week
 - Color Copies & Transparencies
 - Oversize Copies & Posters
 - Great Prices!
- 1201 "Q" Street • 475-2679
 330 N. 48th Street • 466-8159

kinko's
 the copy center