

 10% off Everything
(excluding artwork)

New & Used Books • Hats
Plus a lot More.
Stop by and see for yourself.

Empowerments
1627 S. 17th
435-4955
offer expires 3.31.95

Get Ready for Spring Break at the

15 sessions $29⁹⁵
Plus 1 FREE 8oz. bottle of Accelerator Lotion ($10 value) expires 4-30-95

1101 Arapahoe (Just behind McDonald's on S. 9th St.) 423-6022

Rotation gives team near-win

By Trevor Parks
Staff Reporter

A game-time stunt by Nebraska coach Angela Beck almost paid dividends Sunday against Oklahoma. Beck started Jami Kubik, Anna DeForge, Tanya Upthegrove, Roquayah Brown and Kate Galligan, and that lineup almost gave Nebraska its first win since Jan. 29.

And then Beck used five other players to substitute into the game for the starting five.

Those players were Pyra Aarden, Chris Dillavou, Kate McEwen, Lis Brenden and Tina McClain.

But the Cornhuskers, 11-12 and 2-9 in the Big Eight, blew a 16-point lead in the second half and fell to Oklahoma 85-83 Sunday before 3,234 fans at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Sooners improved to 16-6 and 8-3 in the conference.

Beck said the rotation system helped in the first half.

"I thought benching a couple of starters might help," Beck said. "In my mind I just felt we got a pretty good rhythm out of the first ones. It helped us stay more fresh."

But the Sooners rallied and put the success of the Nebraska rotation system to bed late in the game.

After trailing 81-79 with 2:02 remaining, Nebraska pulled within 81-80 on a McClain free throw.

Oklahoma led 84-80 after Etta Maytubby, who led all scorers with 24 points, made three free throws with 16 seconds left.

A 3-pointer by Galligan pulled Nebraska to within 84-83 with eight seconds left.

McClain then fouled Sharee Mitchum on the inbounds play.

Mitchum sank the front end of the one-and-one, but missed the second and DeForge rebounded.

DeForge dribbled the ball up the court and had a jump shot from the free-throw line roll off the rim with two seconds left.

Beck said the loss was another tough one for the Huskers.

"Our execution in the last 30 seconds was horrendous," Beck said. "It was a contrasting game, first half Nebraska played excellent. (Oklahoma) had an excellent second half compared to their first half."

The Huskers held a 58-42 advantage with 17:33 remaining after a Galligan 3-pointer.

The Sooners rallied with a 14-2 run to cut the Nebraska lead to 60-56.

In that 5:22 span, Nebraska's lone basket came from Pyra Aarden and the Huskers then went 2:59 without a field goal until Lis Brenden hit a 3-pointer.

The Sooners rallied to tie the game at 72 with 5:36 remaining.

DeForge, who led Nebraska with 20 points, said she could see Nebraska begin to get nervous during the Sooners' comeback.

"We were tensing up as a team," DeForge said. "We weren't playing to win anymore, I think we were just playing to hold our lead."

Teddy Bear Express

We deliver delightful teddy bears of all types and sizes.

We're your Valentine's Headquarters!!

237 South 70th-488-7766

Husker gymnasts win, lose at meets

From Staff Reports

The fifth-ranked Nebraska men's gymnastics team lost 227.95-226.5 at fourth-ranked Penn State Saturday night, but rebounded Sunday by defeating William & Mary and James Madison.

Senior Richard Grace won four individual events, recording a career-best 9.90 score in the floor exercise Sunday. Grace also won the all-around, parallel bars and tied with teammate Ted Harris in the still rings.

Against Penn State, the Cornhuskers were led by Grace, who finished second in the all-around with a season best 57.6.

Penn State's Tony Pansy won the all-around with a score of 57.65.

Nebraska had four individual event winners against the Nittany Lions.

Rick Kieffer won the still rings with a score of 9.65.

Grace won the other three events for Nebraska. He won the pommel horse with a career-best score of 9.8.

Grace also won the parallel bars with a score of 9.75 and the vault with a 9.75.

 Husker
Campus Recreation Center

Sweetheart Sale

February 6 - 17

10% - 75% Off

BILLY FROGG'S
GRILL & BAR

Happy Hour

4:30-7:00 daily

THE HAYMARKET
826 P STREET
(402) 477-2171

Nebraska dominates in-state rival UNO

By Clay Short
Staff Reporter

For the Nebraska wrestling team, the in-state matchup with the University of Nebraska-Omaha didn't turn out to be much of a matchup after all.

Guided by three pins, and by virtue of taking nine straight wins from the Mavs, the Cornhuskers punished the Division II school with a 36-3 win Sunday night at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

"This is the first time that my team didn't underestimate Omaha," Husker coach Tim Neumann said. "Our guys knew they had to wrestle well, and they did."

Heavyweight Tolly Thompson got his 12th pin of the season, Jason Kraft got his second, and Mike Eierman his fourth.

But the Huskers, who improved to 16-3 on the season, lost the first match of the night. At 118 pounds, freshman Brad Canoyer lost a close 6-4 decision to the Mavericks' Lim Prim.

After the first match, though, the dual was all Huskers as Nebraska didn't lose another match.

"Tim should really be proud of his guys," UNO coach Mike Denney said. "I have to hand it to them, they were ready to wrestle."

Junior Erik Josephson continued his recent dominance on the mat, beating the top-ranked Division II 167-pounder, Raphael Kizzee, in double overtime. Even though he has a 27-5 record, Josephson has not yet received a national ranking.

"It's like running into a wall, trying to get him ranked," Neumann said. "He beat the defending national champion, and has only lost one match at 167."

But Josephson isn't worrying about the national rankings.

"They don't want to rank me," he said. "That's fine with me. If I win the Big Eight, which I plan on doing, then I'll get the respect."

Steve Baer, Tony DeAnda, Temoer Terry, Kenny Mbah and Ryan Tobin all scored decisions against the Mavs. Baer and Terry beat opponents that were both ranked No. 2 in the nation.

Women's gymnasts win meet, score season-high point total

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska women's gymnastics team used a season-high 192.575 to win the Hearts Invitational at Raleigh, N.C.

Host North Carolina State finished second with a score of 189.7. James Madison finished third at 184.675 and Rhode Island was fourth with a score of 184.025.

The Cornhuskers were led by Joy Taylor and Shelly Bartlett, who tied for the all-around title with scores of 38.9.

Bartlett won the balance beam with a score of 9.875. Taylor finished third in the event with a 9.8.

Nebraska's Kim DeHaan won on the uneven bars with a score of 9.825. Taylor finished second with a 9.75.

Loss

Continued from Page 7

to the right."

In addition to Boone's 21 points, Erick Strickland added 16 points and five steals and Terrance Badgett scored 12 points.

Nee, whose record against Iowa State fell to 9-8, said the key to the game may have been when Strickland fouled out 21 seconds into the overtime period.

"We got out of our normal substitution rotation because of the foul trouble," Nee said. "Strickland gives us a defensive identity. He hasn't been playing well, but, still, we want him on the floor."

Iowa State was paced by Hoiberg, who scored 14 of his team-high 20 points after halftime and played 44 minutes in the game. Center Loren Meyer chipped in 19 points and 12 rebounds, and Michalik added 18 points.

Nee said Nebraska would have to regroup quickly in order to be ready to play No. 2 Kansas on Tuesday night in Lincoln.

"We are going to need a superhuman effort on Tuesday," he said. "There's just no breaks in the league. Once one is behind you, win or lose, you just have to have the resiliency, the courage to come back."

For You

Valentine

The 25 Best Valentine's Personals will win a FREE box of Russell Stover Chocolates from:

University Bookstore

34 Nebraska Union
1400 R Street 68588-0448
(402) 472-2588 FAX 472-1761

Daily Nebraskan
Valentine Personal Order Form

Name _____
Address _____
Phone _____

STUDENT RATES: $3 includes 15 words.
NON-STUDENT RATES: $4 includes 15 words.
$.15 for each additional word. Must be pre-paid.

Deadline 2:00 Mon., Feb. 13

Advertising Text: _____

