Host tells all in future book

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Radio talk-show host Barbara Carlson has embarrassed her ex-husband, Minnesota Gov. Arne Carlson, before by talking about their failed marriage on the air.

Now she's planning a tell-all book, and the governor is warning that he won't tolerate any "defamatory material."

The book, "This Broad's Life," is scheduled for release next summer. She chronicles her years of alcohol abuse and her dozen years of marriage to Carlson.

"Part of this book deals with my life and drinking, and the governor is part of that," Ms. Carlson said. "There are some things that are very painful in the book."

Carlson said in a letter to his ex: "I will not tolerate any invasion of my privacy nor condone any defamatory material or exaggerations that may be contained in the book."

Her response: "I am not giving him veto power over the story of my life."

Writing an effective ad

Be descriptive. The more information you provide the readers, the better your responses will be.

Begin the ad with the item for sale or offered. Include the price of the items for sale. Highlight the ad with larger type, boldface, art or a box.

Run the ad for at least two days. Make sure the ad reaches the Monday-Wednesday-Friday students and the Tuesday-Thursday students.
