Big bucks convince Big 12 to hold game

DALLAS (AP) — Once they were assured ABC would open its wallet wider, Big 12 athletic directors voted Wednesday to play an annual championship football game beginning Dec. 7, 1996, at the Trans World Dome in St. Louis.

Final approval for the contest, to be played by the winners of the North and South divisions of the upcoming league, must come from league presidents at their meeting Nov. 30 to Dec. 1 in Kansas City, Mo.

"If I had to guess, I'd guess they'd approve it," said Kansas athletic director Bob Frederick, who ran Wednesday's meeting.

The vote for the game was not unanimous, although it's believed that Nebraska was the lone holdout. Officials pointed out that St. Louis was a unanimous choice, and they heaped praise on the city and facility.

The Big 12 begins next season with the Big Eight Conference expanding to include Texas, Texas A&M, Texas

Tech and Baylor, which are leaving the dying Southwest Conference.

The key issue resolved at Wednesday's daylong meeting was money. Although no specifics were available, it was apparent that ABC raised its bid of $2.5 million.

Commissioner Steve Hatchell said the payout was close to the $4 million ABC spent on the Southeastern Conference championship.

Two ABC officials left the meeting about three hours before the decision was announced. On his way out, ABC Sports executive David Downs said, "We clearly want them to play the game."

guard Jaron Boone and forward Chester Surles will not play because of a new disciplinary point system. Moore also sat out the first exhibition game.

"I think that the suspension of the three players is a major distraction," Nee said. "I wish it didn't happen."

Pella Windows is coached and managed by Michael Born, a former Iowa State basketball player who graduated in 1989. Born formed the Pella Windows team to provide quality opposition to college teams.

"We will have quality players and people who play competitive basketball," Born said.
