

1 Month
Unlimited Tanning
$29.95

12 Conventional Beds
No Appointment/All Walk-ins

North
400 N. 48th
466-1201

Alternative Tan

Orbit Bed
3 visits for $35

coupons do not apply

5 Conventional Beds

- Instant results
- 12 Minutes
- No Flipping
- Contains 98% UVA rays and only 2% UVB rays

South
5500 Old Cheney
421-1511

1/2 price student tickets!

Lied Season 1996

urban bush women

This Award-winning, African-American dance theater combines traditional chants and movement with modern dance and street-smart energy.

february 3, 8pm

A Mid-America Arts Alliance Program made possible by the Dance on Tour Program of the National Endowment for the Arts.

For tickets call 402-472-4747
or toll free in Nebraska, 800-432-3231.
Box Office hours: 11am to 5:30pm

Amigos®

New Year! New Prices!

Tacos

49¢

Soft Pinto Burrito!

AT PARTICIPATING LOCATIONS.

Injury doesn't mask wrestler's will to win

By David Wilson
Staff Reporter

AMES, Iowa — Despite a broken nose, Nebraska senior wrestler Tony DeAnda moved up one weight class to face Iowa State's sixth-rated 142-pounder in Nebraska's dual meet victory Saturday.

DeAnda

After breaking his nose before the National Duals on Jan. 20, DeAnda began his next match wearing a mask. But the mask didn't stay on long. Just minutes into the match, DeAnda said he took it off because he couldn't see or breathe well.

"The doctor said if it comes out of place again, we'll just put it back," DeAnda said.

DeAnda said his doctor told him it would take at least a week before his nose would heal.

"It's still pretty tender, but I think I can go with it now," DeAnda said. "Every now and then I get a hit, and it bleeds real easy. But I'm getting used to the pain now."

DeAnda, a senior from South Sioux City, entered Saturday's dual as the nation's fifth-best wrestler at 134 pounds. He said he knew wrestling at a higher weight would be tough.

DeAnda said he had known his Iowa State opponent, Derek Moutsier, since high school.

"He's a tough wrestler," DeAnda said. "I just felt out-sized."

Cornhusker freshman Allen Hankins, who wrestled at 134 pounds, DeAnda's normal weight class, set the stage with a win over Iowa State's Matt Nurre. Hankins' 14-3 major decision put the Huskers on the board, lowering the Cyclones' lead to 7-4.

"It gave me momentum," DeAnda said. "We needed all the wins we could get."

After tying his match at 2-2 with an escape in the second period, DeAnda improved his chances for an upset.

But Moutsier recorded an escape with 1:55 remaining in the third period and increased his lead to 3-2. Moutsier added another point for riding time and won the match 4-2.

DeAnda lowered his record to 23-8, the same record that earned him a trip to the NCAA Championships last season. DeAnda finished third last year among 134-pounders.

DeAnda said he would return to 134 pounds against Oklahoma on Saturday and Oklahoma State on Sunday. Both meets will be held at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

After his career at Nebraska, DeAnda said he hoped to enter freestyle wrestling and compete internationally.

"I'm more of a collegiate wrestler, but I'll try to make the conversion."

As for this season, DeAnda said he had a few adjustments to make before the 1996 NCAA Championships in Minneapolis on March 21-23.

"I'd like to be a national champ," DeAnda said, "nothing less."

Baseball

Continued from Page 7

the return of two players. Right fielder Matt Meyer and center fielder Mel Motley will anchor the middle of the batting order along with Sears. Meyer hit .362 a year ago, and Motley batted .357.

"Sears, Meyer and Motley are a positive sign," Sanders said. "The key for them is to try not to do too much. They need to just do what they can."

Motley, Meyer and Sears hit in the three, four, five positions last year and combined for 160 RBI. Sanders said he was sure they could provide solid bats in the middle of the lineup again, even without Erstad, who batted second.

The Huskers begin the season three weeks earlier than they did last year, facing New Mexico in a three-game set this weekend and Texas Tech, Arizona State and Northwestern Feb. 15-18 at the Adidas Classic in Phoenix.

"Our schedule is really good," Sanders said. "We may have bitten off a little more than we can chew. But I'd rather play tough teams than play teams that we can hit around on and think we're something that we're not."

1996 Nebraska Baseball

Probable starters

Position	Class	HT.	WT.
C Pete Jenkins	Jr.	6-0	200
1B Todd Sears	So.	6-6	185
2B Corey Miller	Fr.	5-11	170
or Ken McMurray	Jr.	5-8	180
3B Josh Dalton	Fr.	6-0	168
SS Larry Hartzel	Jr.	5-11	185
CF Mel Motley	Sr.	6-4	185
RF Matt Meyer	Sr.	6-3	195
LF Eugene Jenkins	Sr.	5-9	170
SP Steve Fish	Jr.	6-1	185
SP Jay Sirianni	Fr.	5-10	175
SP Jason Allen	Sr.	6-1	190
RP Jonas Armenta	Jr.	6-1	220
RP Justin Gomes	Sr.	6-6	200

KSU

Continued from Page 7

Kansas State, Iowa State and Nebraska finished together in the standings, one team could be left out of the tournament.

He said the tournament selection committee would look closely at the games between the three teams to determine if all three would make the tournament.

But Kansas State and Iowa State have yet to face Kansas. The No. 3 Jayhawks are 4-0 in the Big Eight after beating the Huskers 88-73 on Sunday in Lincoln.

Nee said Iowa State and Kansas State would soon find out how difficult it was to play against the best team in the Big Eight.

After losing at home, Nee said his team must find a way to win on the road.

Kansas State is 2-1 at home in conference play. The Wildcats have lost to Oklahoma and beaten Iowa State and Oklahoma State at Bramlage Coliseum.

A win tonight would give Nebraska a 4-2 conference record and a chance to finish the first half of the Big Eight season with a 5-2 record.

If any of the three teams jumbled behind Kansas can win five of their first seven league games, Nee said, it would be a major accomplishment.

"That would be a heck of a record," he said. "These are very important games. That's the way I look at them."