ASUN asks for Moeser's input

Bill says students, department must cooperate

By Kasey Kerber
Staff Reporter

Chancellor James Moeser will meet with ASUN for the first time tonight, and a bill dealing with him will be presented.

ASUN

"Certainly the biggest thing on our agenda will be a bill that's aimed towards the athletic department's possible seating changes," said Shawntell Hurtgen, president of the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska. Government Bill No. 18 requests that Moeser "issue a firm order to the athletic department" to make no further reductions in the number of student seats or seating changes without his approval.

The bill also will call for the Athletic Department to work with student leaders and establish a standing committee to advise the Athletic Department on all important decisions dealing with student admission, seating and spirit activities.

Hurtgen said she and other ASUN senators were pleased with how the Athletic Department had strived to work with ASUN on the student seating issue.

"Our reaction has been positive so far," Hurtgen said. "We appreciate that they (the Athletic Department) are including us within the decision."

Hurtgen said she hoped Moeser would give input on the bill.

Hurtgen said there also was still fear that a student seating change may occur.

"We feel reassured about having input, but there is still a great deal of apprehension," Hurtgen said. "That's why this bill was drafted."

Wedding

Six couples called in response to the contest on KFRX's morning show for couples who wanted to be married on Valentine's Day. The contest, held last Thursday and Friday, also generated 50 calls for vow renewals.

Everson and Chrastil had their names drawn Monday morning on the KFRX morning show, "the Donut holes," said Program Director Sonny Valentine.

"Andy Vaughn and Kristi London, the show's hosts, thought it was a pretty zany concept," Valentine said. "The show likes to get listeners involved, so they do lots of contests. This was tailor-made to work for us."

Rev. "Donut hole" Michael McGregor, a pastor at the First United Methodist Church and a student in UNL's Ph.D. program for social personality psychology, will be presiding.

"It's the first time I've done anything like this," McGregor said. "It's a great way for people to spend Valentine's Day together. There's a lot of pressure to do something special and unique."

As part of their gift package, Valentine said, Everson and Chrastil won an Omni Travel honeymoon trip to Las Vegas.

Morris said three couples renewing their vows will also receive prizes. A night at the Cornhusker Hotel, a gift certificate from Lazlo's and a gift certificate from Jabrisco's round out the prizes.

More information on tonight's game is available from the NU ticket office at 472-3111.
