Huskers lose to Texas Tech

Weekend Preview

Mel Motley went 3-for-5 with a home run and Matt Meyer collected two hits, but the Nebraska baseball team lost 7-3 to No. 11 Texas Tech on Thursday afternoon in Tempe, Ariz.

Nebraska is finished with Big Eight dual competition. After Northern Iowa, the Huskers face Wyoming on Feb. 24. The Big Eight Championships will be held March 9 in Stillwater, Okla.

Northern Iowa, 4-9, which was nationally ranked earlier this season, has defeated James Madison, Northeast Missouri, the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Eastern Illinois this year.

NU heads to Texas

The Nebraska softball team will open its season today at the Pepsi-Intercollegiate Classic in Arlington, Texas. The Cornhuskers won the tournament last season, posting six straight victories.

Nebraska coach Rhonda Revelle said she hoped to improve on last season's team, which advanced to NCAA Regional play for the first time since 1988.

NU on home stretch

Partial squads for the Nebraska men's and women's track and field teams will be in action today at the Bob Devaney Sports Center indoor track in the NIAC Invite.

The meet, to which Nebraska Wesleyan will play host, will begin at 4 p.m. and last until about 10 p.m. This meet is important to many of Nebraska's athletes because it will decide roster spots for the Big Eight Championships. This is the last meet for Nebraska before the Big Eight Championships, which will be held Feb. 23-24 at the Devaney Center.

NU tennis in action

After going 1-2 last weekend, the Nebraska men's tennis team is back in the swing of things this weekend.

The Cornhuskers will take on Drake at 2 p.m. on Saturday in Des Moines, Iowa. Last weekend, Nebraska was defeated by Texas A&M and South Alabama, while defeating Baylor.

The Nebraska women's tennis team will be in action as well. Today, the Huskers also will face Drake. On Saturday, they will take on Minnesota.

Motley led off the bottom of the ninth inning with a homer, but Nebraska could pull no closer. Steve Fish (1-1) took the loss for 2-2 Nebraska, which will play sixth-ranked Arizona State today at 7 p.m. in the Fiesta Bowl Diamond Classic. Texas Tech improved to 7-0.

Wrestlers hit mats

The third-ranked Nebraska wrestling team will face Northern Iowa at 5 p.m. Saturday at the Bob Devaney Sports Center indoor track.

The Cornhuskers, 13-3-1 after defeating Missouri on Wednesday night, have defeated 10 ranked opponents this season. That does not include Oklahoma, which Nebraska defeated Feb. 3. The Huskers later had to forfeit because Mike Eierman was ruled ineligible.

Competing in five events, McEwen won the parallel bars with a 9.625 and the horizontal bar with a 9.65, scoring career bests in both events.

Nebraska again will be without true freshman J.D. Reive, who is suffering from a back injury. Allen said he was confident that Reive—whom the coach has called "this generation's Jim Hartung"—would make an impact when he returned.

"As soon as we get him back in the lineup, I see us shooting up to the top team in the country," Allen said.

Another true freshman, Marshall Nelson, scored a 9.55 on pommel horse against Oklahoma. Nelson, who is recovering from knee surgery, will compete in only the pommel horse again Sunday.

"He should be back to full speed in a month," Allen said. "He could be the national champ in three events."

man Mindy Oxford will compete for the Huskers in the all-around.

Last week, Bartlett won her third all-around title of the year, scoring a season-high 39.175 points.

Husker freshmen Arnie Dillman, Courtney Brown and Jess Swift will lead off in the vault, beam and bars, Kendig said. Dillman also will perform first on the floor.

Tigers

One area that motivates Nebraska right now is a desire to get in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in three seasons. Galligan said the Huskers believed they would need 20 wins to get in the tournament.

"We just take one game at a time," Galligan said. "We're not putting pressure on ourselves, but we just look at who we're playing next. We are far more focused for the game ahead of us."

To sweep the Tigers for the sixth consecutive year, Nebraska must find a way to stop Missouri senior Erika Martin, perhaps the best all-around player in the conference.

The Huskers defeated Missouri 73-68 in overtime on Jan. 19 in Columbia, Mo. In the first meeting, Martin was held to 11 points but led the Tigers with 13 rebounds. In conference games, Martin leads the Big Eight in both scoring and rebounding, averaging 21 points and 8.5 rebounds per game.

Martin also leads the Big Eight in assists, averaging 4.6 per game. But in the first game, the Huskers countered Martin with their own scoring attack.

Nebraska junior forward Tina McClain led the Huskers with 24 against the Tigers, while sophomore guard Anna DeForge added 15 points.
