Action hits Lincoln's big screens

October brings back Steven Seagal, along with Damon Wayans, in "The Glimmer Man," opening Oct. 4. Also on Oct. 4, the hit play "To Gillian, On Her 37th Birthday" moves to the cinema screens.

The chilly air in November will match the freezing air-conditioning at the theaters, showing movies like "Ransom" on Nov. 8. "Ransom" is directed by Ron Howard, stars Mel Gibson, Rene Russo and Delroy Lindo, and takes a new twist on the classic "child of rich couple" tale.

On Nov. 22, the Borg hatch a plan in "Star Trek: First Contact" to defeat the inferior humans. Picard and company are all back, this time in a newly-commissioned Enterprise, and Picard defies orders in an attempt to ruin the plans of these villainous intruders.

Also in November (no definite date yet), Sylvester Stallone tries to help survivors escape from a tunnel cave-in in "Daylight." Sly's son Sage also appears.

What I did for my summer vacation

It's been a long vacation. I just graduated, that took a while. My car had some problems, it was exciting and it destroyed my pocketbook. I haven't seen any martians lately, either. Just kidding. I've never seen them.
