

Snyder praises NU, says Cats can win

By DAVID WILSON
Staff Reporter

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Kansas State Coach Bill Snyder knows Nebraska.

After losing to the Cornhuskers seven times in seven tries, Snyder knows their plays, their coaching staff and their players. And he knows the Wildcats will have to play a perfect game Saturday to beat No. 6 Nebraska.

"They've always been the same way," Snyder said. "They've got a great I-back, and they will just keep handing it off and handing it off."

"They've got just enough weapons."

Nebraska's 19-0 loss Sept. 21 to Arizona State proved that the Huskers are beatable, Snyder said, but the game was not characteristic of Nebraska.

"It does show that they're not invincible and they are human," Snyder said. "But at the same time, it may have motivated them. I think there were a lot of circumstances in that ball game that probably won't happen again."

In 1994 — the last time Nebraska played Kansas State in Manhattan — the Wildcats tried a no-back, five-wide receiver formation against NU. The strategy failed in a 17-6 Husker win in which KSU rushed the ball 23 times for minus-7 yards.

"If it doesn't work," Snyder said, "it's a bad strategy. We had some chances with that, but we didn't get it done."

"Nebraska's not a team that you can trick."

Snyder said his team thinks it can beat the Huskers, but confidence can only carry them so far.

"If you're trying to accomplish something, you better believe you can do it. Maybe I was naive, but I can't think of a ballgame that we've gone into with Nebraska that we didn't believe we had a chance to win."

"You better take a lot of things to war with you. Belief is one of them. But you have to take some ammunition, too."

Huskers face must-win game

To Husker Coach Tom Osborne, Saturday is more than just another game. It's a major obstacle, and if Nebraska takes the Wildcats lightly, he said, the Huskers can forget about playing in St. Louis in December.

"They (Kansas State) are not a team that you look at and say there are some strengths and some weakness," Osborne said. "They are pretty solid across the board."

Notes:

Nebraska's Ryan Terwilliger (lower back and hip strain) is doubtful for Saturday, Osborne said. Terrell Farley will start at Will linebacker. Farley, a starter for six games last year, was suspended this season for NU's first two games. He backed up Terwilliger last week.

The Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Byrne announced Thursday that Central Florida has been added to the 1997 football schedule. The Golden Knights will visit Lincoln on Sept. 13. Nebraska is still looking for a game on Sept. 6.

Braves, Cardinals win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fred McGriff's solo homerun barely cleared the fence and Jermaine Dye's was never in doubt.

McGriff and Dye had two of Atlanta's three solo homers and Greg Maddux pitched seven strong innings Thursday as the Braves defeated the Dodgers 3-2 to take a two-game lead in their best-of-five National League playoff series.

In St. Louis, a member of the Cardinals' mostly forgotten old guard ended nine years of frustration.

Major League Playoffs

Tom Pagnozzi, who played on the 1987 World Series team before the Cardinals had several mediocre seasons, drove in the game-winner with a shot off reliever Trevor Hoffman's glove in the eighth inning Thursday, giving St. Louis a 5-4 win over the San Diego Padres and a 2-0 lead in their National League playoff series.

The teams resume their best-of-five series Saturday in San Diego.

Football Picks

The Daily Nebraskan sports staff members pick the winners in boldface in college football games this weekend. The staff is 14-16 this season and was 7-4 last week.
