Kansas holds off CU

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Raef LaFrentz scored 21 points and Jerod Haase added 20 as top-ranked Kansas survived a scare from No. 18 Colorado before winning 77-68 at the Coors Event Center Sunday.

The Jayhawks (20-0, 6-0 Big 12) jumped out to a 13-0 advantage and led by as many as 16 points in the first half, but Colorado guard Chauncey Billups led a second-half rally that put the Buffaloes up 64-63 with 6:19 to play.

LaFrentz, however, took charge late in the game, fueling a 10-0 run for a 73-64 lead with 3:48 left.

Cold-shooting Colorado (15-4, 6-1) was paced by Billups' 23 points.

Colorado's Dennis Griffin made a free throw to tie the game at 57 with 9:16 left. LaFrentz and Griffin exchanged baskets, and LaFrentz followed with a 17-footer before Billups gave Colorado its first lead on a 3-pointer at 62-61.

LaFrentz then made a basket, and Colorado's Martice Moore hit a short jumper, setting up the Jayhawks' 10-0 flurry, which started when LaFrentz missed two free throws but grabbed the rebound and scored. In other Big 12 Conference action Sunday, Texas beat Missouri 78-74.

Huskers set beam record

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska women's gymnastics team pounded Missouri 194.025-189.4 at the Hearnes Center Friday in Columbia, Mo.

The Cornhuskers won the balance beam with a school record 48.8.

Laurie McLaughlin won the beam with a career-best 9.825. Shelly Bartlett and freshman Heather Brink tied for second at 9.8.

Bartlett also won her second all-around title of the season scoring a 39.25. She was first on the uneven bars, (9.9) and second on the vault (9.75) and floor exercise (9.8).

Brink won the vault (9.875), was third on the bars (9.8) and second in the all-around (38.85). Courtney Brown won the floor exercise with a 9.825.

The Huskers, 3-0, compete against Southeast Missouri State tonight at 7 in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

NU wrestlers pin Wyoming

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska wrestling team won all but one match as the Cornhuskers routed Wyoming 39-6 Sunday.

The win improved the 11th-ranked Huskers to 10-4 in dual action.

Nebraska freshman Todd Beckerman opened the dual with a 7-2 decision over Wyoming's Chris Bouchard at 118 pounds, while No. 11, 126-pound Jeramie Welder, followed with a pin of Corey Hamrick.

Other winners for NU were: Jose DeAnda, Ryan Bauer, Jason Kraft, Dusty Morris, Monte Christensen, Scott Munson and heavyweight Brian Coe.

During a break in the action, Beck pulled DeForge aside and talked with her about her shooting.

"I said, 'You're shooting the ball like a dart,'" Beck said. "She took a couple of bad shots early. I didn't realize, but I think she might have been a little nervous about setting the record."

DeForge missed one more shot but then was a perfect 9-for-9 shooting the rest of the game. With 8:38 remaining in the first half she stole the ball and was fouled while making a spinning layup. With the basket, DeForge became the 16th player in Husker history to score more than 1,000 points in a career.

The former Ms. Wisconsin Basketball, who broke the Wisconsin state scoring record during her high school career, said she was excited to eclipse the 1,000-point mark.

"Consciously, I really didn't think about it that much, but it was on the back of my mind," said DeForge, who also had nine rebounds and four assists. "That's maybe why I came out a little slow, but after I got it, it was out of the way and things were a lot smoother then."

After DeForge's layup she contributed on seven of the Huskers' next nine points with a 3-pointer and two assists as NU built a 10-point lead with 6:29 left before the half.

Nebraska closed the half on a 13-4 run to open a 16-point halftime cushion. In the second half, the Huskers cruised, using 15 different players, 12 of whom scored.

For the Sooners, Michele Workman scored 14 points and grabbed six rebounds.

First-year Oklahoma Coach Sherri Coale said Nebraska is on the edge of belonging with the elite teams of the conference.

"There are definitely four (Texas, Texas Tech, Kansas and Colorado) in the front seat right now and it's everybody else's job to mess up the mix a little bit," Coale said. "Nebraska's right on the edge in that. The only reason I don't mention them in that group is because they haven't played those people yet."

Husker men lose at OU

"We had opportunities, and we didn't convert them," NU Coach Danny Nee said. "We played hard, but we didn't play smart enough. Our execution is not where it should be to win at this level."

Point guard Tyronn Lue tied a career high with 30 points — his fourth conference game with 26 points or more. Bernard Garner scored 15 points, and Moore added 14 for the Huskers, who shot 51 percent from the field to the Sooners' 44 percent.

But Oklahoma out-rebounded the taller Huskers 40-26, forced 17 Nebraska turnovers and hit nine 3-pointers — including eight in the first half — to NU's three long balls.

Senior guard Nate Erdmann scored 20 of his career-best 34 points in the first half, and junior Corey Brewer provided the knockout punch with 15 points after halftime.

"It's good to see us play well down the stretch," Sooner Coach Kelvin Sampson said. "We stepped up and won. Good basketball teams do that."

Nebraska did not play well down the stretch. After fighting back from 12 down with less than three minutes to play in the first half, the Huskers trailed 40-34 at the half and took a 55-54 lead on a Moore bucket and free throw with 12:05 to play in the game.

But Brewer drilled a 4-foot jump shot with 9:45 to play, igniting a 6-0 run to put OU on top 62-56. The Sooners increased their lead to 69-60 following a pair of Brewer free throws with 5:19 remaining in the game.

Neither team budged until Garner scored six points in 38 seconds, trimming OU's lead to 75-71 with less than two minutes to play. After a Lue turnover — the 6-foot sophomore committed seven playing the entire 40 minutes — Erdmann sank a free throw, and Moore slammed a tip of a Lue miss to pull NU within three with 32.1

"We are a lot better than most of the teams we play."

seconds left. Erdmann made two more free throws before NU guard Alvin Mitchell scored after rebounding another Lue miss, trimming the lead to 78-75 with 23.8 seconds to play.

Brewer then hit another pair of free throws, and OU forward Lou Moore rejected a Lue 3-pointer, taking the ball the length of the court for a dunk with 11 seconds left to secure the Sooner win.

Once again on Saturday, foul trouble hurt NU. After picking up two early fouls, Moore played only five minutes in the first half, recording two points and no rebounds.

Forwards Larry Florence, who scored just two points on 1-of-8 shooting, and Venson Hamilton fouled out of the game, NU's second straight loss after a 75-74 setback at Missouri last Wednesday.

"I don't know where that win is and how we're going to find it," Nee said. "But there's just certain people who didn't play well today. We need everyone playing well."

On Wednesday, Nebraska begins a 10-day stretch in which it plays four ranked foes, beginning with No. 14 Iowa State in Lincoln.

"We are a lot better than most of the teams we play," NU freshman Cookie Belcher said. "But we always play to their level. We don't play to our ability."

"You keep telling yourself that you've got to bounce back, but it just gets harder and harder."
