

IT CAN KILL YOU IF YOU DON'T RECOGNIZE IT.

Depression strikes millions indiscriminately. Depression is MOST dangerous when it goes unrecognized. Always be aware of the threat, and don't always believe everything you feel.

Teen held in clinic bombing

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Federal agents arrested a 15-year-old boy Thursday on charges he bombed and shot up an abortion clinic in a series of attacks that started on New Year's Day.

The boy, whose name was not released, faces charges of using an explosive device and a firearm to damage a building, U.S. Attorney Steve Lewis said.

Lewis gave no motive for the attacks at the Reproductive Services clinic in Tulsa.

KOTV-TV and radio station

KRMG reported that hand grenades and other weapons were discovered in the youngster's house in suburban Bixby, Okla. Authorities wouldn't comment on any evidence found.

The clinic was firebombed on New Year's Day, then hit with two unidentified explosive devices on Jan. 19. On Sunday, someone broke in and shot up medical equipment. No one was injured in any of the attacks.

The search of the boy's house Thursday morning was prompted by a tip that came in from a caller after the FBI issued a sketch and two enhanced images of a suspect in the break-in. Authorities wouldn't say where the images came from.

"No decision has been made regarding whether there would be a request to try the young man as an adult," Lewis said.

Sherri Finik, executive director of the clinic, said she was grateful for the arrest.

"It's just a wonderful sense of safety and security," Finik said. "For the first time in months, really, I felt that I can go home and not be worried about what's going to happen to the clinic when I'm not here."

Progress made in hostage talks

LIMA, Peru (AP) — In a first step toward negotiations to end Peru's hostage crisis, mediators met Thursday with leftist rebels holding 72 captives at the Japanese ambassador's residence.

Efforts to free the hostages "have advanced positively," Roman Catholic Archbishop Juan Luis Cipriani told reporters after the three-hour session inside the walled compound.

The captives appear to be fine but they are "evidently tired" of being held, he said.

Thursday's meeting was considered an important step toward launching the first formal talks between rebel and government leaders since masked guerrillas seized the Japanese ambassador's residence Dec. 17, taking more than 500 hostages.

"This will help us define the eventual sequence of talks," said President Alberto Fujimori, who has pledged to seek a peaceful solution to the crisis.

A house across the street has been selected and furnished for possible negotiations.

There has been no sign yet, however, that the rebels will give ground on a key issue — their demand for the release of hundreds of comrades from Peruvian jails in exchange for the hostages. Fujimori refuses to trade prisoners for hostages.

Cipriani urged both sides to soften their stands.

"Any alternative would be helped by improving the language, improving attitudes," he told reporters Wednesday. "That way we can advance quickly to the conversations."
