

UNL Theatre presents
The House of Bernarda Alba
 by FEDERICO GARCIA LORCA
 MARCH 13 PREVIEW 8:00PM
 TICKETS $5
 MARCH 14-15 & MARCH 18-22
 8:00 pm
 Students $6
 Faculty/Staff $9
 All Others $10
 STUDIO THEATRE
 12th and R
 Call 472-2073

SHOE'S
 Bar & Grill
 PRESENTS:
CAJUN WEDNESDAY
 MARCH 19TH 5-10P.M.
 JOIN US FOR:
 • ALLIGATOR ETOUFFEE
 • MAQUE CHOUX
 • RED BEANS AND RICE WITH SAUSAGE
 • STUFFED CRAB SHELLS
 • CRAWFISH PO BOYS SANDWICH
 • BOILED CRAWFISH
 IN THE HAYMARKET DISTRICT
 813 Q STREET

ATTN: UNL MEN
 Do you love football?
 Do you love basketball?
 Are you a sports fanatic?
 If you are, the Yell Squad is the place to be!
 Come to a practice and work out with the nationally ranked University of Nebraska Cheerleaders.
 For tryout information call Renee Swartz at (402) 472-4622 or E-mail: rswartz@huskers.unl.edu

Women's Studies International Colloquium Series
 Marcela Raffaelli, Assistant Professor of Psychology
Acculturation and Sexual Behavior of Latino Women in the United States
 Wednesday, March 19, 3:30 p.m., City Union

STUDENT TRAVEL
 STA Travel is the world's largest travel organization specializing in low-cost travel for students.
 PSST! Got the urge to travel? STA Travel has great student airfares to destinations around the world. Go shopping on our website for current student airfares.
 (800) 777-0112
 www.sta-travel.com
 STA TRAVEL We've been there.
 • International Student Identity Cards
 • Around the World
 • Student Airfares
 • Domestic Discounts
 • Eurail Passes
 • Hostel Membership
 • Spring Break
 • Travel Insurance
 • Packages for 18-34 yrs.
 • Budget Hotels

What do you think of our Department of Athletics? commitment to equity? academic integrity? fiscal integrity? rules compliance?
Open Forum
Wed., March 19,
11:30 - 1 p.m. East Union.
 All students, faculty and staff are welcome to give input to the NCAA certification study.

Law & Order

A look at crime on campus and in the community

BURGLARY
 A man sleeping on his couch was awakened Saturday night when three men smashed in his front door, asked for his roommate and then took things from the house.

The victim told police he was sleeping at his house at 5032 W. Craw St. when he heard a loud crash, Lincoln Police Sgt. Ann Heermann said. She said the victim reported that three black males entered the house and asked for his roommate.

The men then went through the house and took a car compact disc player, a pager and a $300 silver coin collection. Total loss was valued at $680.

DISTURBANCE
 Four members of Rescue the Heartland argued with a security guard who asked them to leave the Piedmont shopping center, but the four later left without incident.

The members of the group were standing outside the Heart's Content store, 1265 S. Cotner Blvd., handing out anti-abortion rights literature. Heermann said officers were told that the wife of Winston Crabb, a doctor who performs abortions, used to work there but does not anymore.

Members of the group have been following Crabb, picketing his house and his church.

Passers-by told security guards that members of the group were putting handbills on cars in the parking lot Saturday about 3:30 p.m.

The posting of bills on cars is illegal. Because no security guards saw the members of the group put anything on a car, they just asked the members to move away from the store where they were handing out material. Handing out materials is not illegal.

The members, two males and two females, complained but moved on. Heermann said Lincoln Police were called but only took a report. No citations were given.

ARREST
 Two University of Nebraska-Lincoln freshmen were arrested on drug charges in Schramm Residence Hall early Friday morning.

Darik Bigelow, 19, and Jerry Hanna, 18, were both cited for possession of drug paraphernalia. Hanna also was cited for possession of less than an ounce of marijuana.

A Community Service Officer on duty in Schramm Hall at 12:25 a.m. smelled burning marijuana coming from the eighth-floor room, University Police Sgt. Bill Manning said.

When contacted, the two freshman denied having marijuana, but allowed officers to search the room, Manning said. He said the search turned up a small bag of marijuana and the paraphernalia.

Malfunction leads to landing at Guard base

From Staff Reports

An Air Force reconnaissance plane out of Omaha was forced to make an emergency landing Monday morning in Lincoln. The plane touched down without a problem.

The plane, an EC-130, had a malfunction in the right side of its hydraulics system, staff Sgt. Jim Hughes said.

Hydraulics systems in aircraft are part of the planes' control systems. Hughes said the malfunction affected the plane's right wing flaps.

Flaps on the wings are lowered during landing to create drag, which slows the plane down for a softer landing and creates lift, allowing the plane to stay airborne at slow speeds.

Hughes said there was no danger to the 22 crew members on the plane, which was on a training flight out of Omaha.

The Lincoln Fire Department was dispatched to a plane having trouble coming into the Air National Guard airfield about 11 a.m. Hughes said the plane was re-routed to the base near Lincoln Municipal Airport because the landing strip is longer than the one at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha.

Former Husker gets delay in drug case

By MATTHEW WAITE
 Senior Reporter

A former Husker tight end who was arrested last month on two felony drug counts asked for and received another delay in his case in Lancaster County Court Monday.

Eric Alford, who only started one game his senior season, had his arraignment date moved to April 12. According to court documents, his attorney is pursuing a plea bargain.

Alford was arrested Feb. 12 for two counts of possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver. He was caught with cocaine and marijuana.

According to the police report in Alford's case file, Lincoln police called Alford on the phone as part of a drug investigation. Over the phone, Alford agreed to sell officers a small amount of marijuana.

Alford had an outstanding warrant for driving on a suspended license. After the sales call, police went to his house and arrested him on the warrant. As they searched him, police found Alford in possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. Alford then allowed police to search the house, where they found a small bag of white powder.

Alford's roommates then revoked permission to search the house. Police secured the house and later obtained a search warrant.

In their search of the house, police found 2.25 grams of cocaine, a bag containing 29.02 grams of LSD mushrooms, four unknown tablets and a small bag of marijuana. In Alford's room, officers found drug paraphernalia with marijuana residue.

Alford was booked on two felony counts of possession with intent to deliver. Three days after he was jailed, Alford posted a $2,000 bond and was released.

As a tight end for the Huskers, Alford was a member of the 1994 national championship team. In his senior season, he started one game, had four touchdowns and had 271 receiving yards.

Business merger to help Nebraskans with housing

HOUSING from page 1

he said, and they ought to be treated well in the home-loan process.

An $80,000 home would require only a $2,400 down payment and a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage. Closing costs could be kept to 2 percent, he said.

But figuring the amount that can be spent on a home can be difficult, he said. "At the end of the day, nobody does anybody any good if you get somebody in a home they can't heat," Zoellick said.

The company's state and local partnership will establish home-ownership counseling services to help Nebraskans budget for their home-loan decision.

U.S. Rep. Doug Bereuter said home ownership is impossible in some rural Nebraska communities because neither homes nor loans are available to small-town buyers.

He said the Fannie Mae partnership would stimulate construction and facilitate those loans — a real boon to rural Nebraskans.

Timothy Kenny, NIFA executive director, reminded other speakers that Nebraska's housing problem was only a series of challenges, which innovative solutions would fix.

Visit us at:
www.unl.edu/DailyNeb/

Make Headlines... and other things at the DN
 The Daily Nebraskan is now accepting applications for senior positions for the fall semester. Any major field and class standing is eligible, as long as you are carrying at least six credit hours and have a 2.0 GPA or higher. Positions are:
 Managing Editor, Associate News Editor, Assignment / Supplements Editor, Design Chief, Sports Editor, A&E Editor, Opinion Editor, Copy Desk Chief, Art Director, Photo Director, Web Editor, Assistant Web Editor, Senior Reporters, Cartoonist, Senior Photographer, Copy Editors, Columnists
 Pick up an application, job description and sign up for an interview at the Daily Nebraskan, 34 Nebraska Union. Applications are due Friday. Interviews will begin March 31. And don't forget, applications for current staff positions are always accepted.
 UNL does not discriminate in its academic, admission or employment programs and abides by all federal regulations regarding the same.