YOUR MIND ISN'T ONE OF THEM.

MDA has shown how valuable people with disabilities are to society. Talent, ability and desire are more important than strength of a person's muscles. The barrier these people can't overcome is a closed mind. Keep yours open.

Technology costs to increase tuition

school in the Big 12 Conference now has a technology fee, except for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the University of Kansas.

Even at $5, UNL's fee will be among the cheapest for students, he said.

To further support students, the administration plans to submit its budget for spending money raised by the technology fee to an ASUN committee.

"They have to hear a student voice on this," Ruwe said.

The committee, which has not yet been formed, will then choose whether to support the budget, but will have no official power to allocate funds.

Ruwe said the ASUN has asked for funds raised by the university's possible beverage contract to also go toward technology spending on campus.

Hendrickson said he asked for the fee increase without expecting any technology funding from the possible beverage contract. He was not involved in contract negotiations and did not know if possible funds had been earmarked for technology, he said.

The NU Board of Regents will not vote on the fee increase, but it will hear a report on the increase at its meeting Saturday at Varner Hall on East Campus.

Ruwe said every top research to existing computer labs by the fall.

No formal plans now exist to spend the annual $3 million, he said, but "we're going to be pressured to get more stuff started," Hendrickson said.

He said the amount of fees collected by 1999 could finance the constant upgrading of campus computer labs, enhancing library services and improving technology in classrooms. A new student computer lab could be built in C.Y. Thompson Library on East Campus, he said.

The university will seek student, faculty and staff input on budgeting the collected fees, Hendrickson said.

Curt Ruwe, ASUN president-elect, said the ASUN fully supported the technology fee at its meeting before spring break.

"We wouldn't support it if they were going to throw $5 at us," Ruwe said, but the incremental raise will allow students to adjust.

Starting with the $2 fall increase, students will reap important benefits from the increased technology fee, he said. The ASUN lists a computer lab for Love Library and a 24-hour computer lab on East Campus as priorities.

No typical spring break for Lincoln church group

The group spent most of its mornings biking, and in the afternoon they were rock climbing, Dieckmann said.

This trip was the first climbing and biking trip that Jay Kunz, a senior mechanical engineering major at UNL, had ever taken.

"It was exciting. It really got my juices flowing," he said.

Kunz said the best part of the trip was getting to know the other people he went with.

The Berean college group is planning trips to Palisades Park in South Dakota in April and to Vedauwoo, a climbing site in Wyoming, in May.

sity.

Kyle Bond, one of the trip's leaders, has been taking such trips since 1987. He said he started going because of the friendships he had developed in the college group and "the whole idea of the adventure intrigued me."

Kelly Dieckmann, a part-time student at Southeast Community College, said the venture was her second climbing trip. The group left the cabin at 8 every morning and didn't return until about 5 p.m. each day, she said.

A look at crime on campus and in the community

ASSAULT

From the folks who told you not to talk to strangers, another slogan may be coming: "Don't hug strangers."

A woman in the 300 block of South 26th Street told police that she was approached by a man between 9:50 p.m. and 10:10 p.m. Saturday in her driveway.

The man didn't ask her for money or valuables—he asked her for a hug. Politely, she obliged and hugged the man, who then proceeded to fondle her breasts.

Lincoln Police Sgt. Ann Heermann said police have a suspect and are now looking for him.

watched a man break a window and take a "boombox." He then watched the man run south.

When police arrived, they searched the area and found Javier Sanchez, a 25-year-old transient, walking down O Street between 17th and 18th streets.

Heermann said Sanchez had two large radios—valued at $155 together—in his hands and glass fragments in his hair. Damage to the store was $750.

Sanchez was arrested and jailed on suspicion of burglary.

BURGLARY

A passer-by with a cellular phone managed to help police nab a burglar.

Lincoln Police Sgt. Ann Heermann said police were called to BB & R Pawn, 1701 O St. Sunday about midnight to a burglary in progress.

A passer-by on O Street said he

BUZZ ON THE FUZZ: RADAR WATCH

Lincoln police radar units will be on Norral Boulevard between 48th and 50th streets and Superior between 14th and 27th streets today.

On Wednesday, radar units will be at Old Cheney Road between 14th and 27th streets and on Sumner Street between 20th to 27th streets.
