

Huskers romp Broncos behind solid pitching

"He is capable of doing those things," Sanders said. "He was one of our top hitters last fall, then he kind of slipped backward for a while. So this is real good to see."

Junior first baseman Todd Sears finished the day 7 for 8 with five runs and two RBIs. The All-America candidate also hit his 10th homer of the season while raising his average to a team-high .447.

Sears was one of five Husker hitters to come to the plate four times in the first three innings of game two. Nebraska scored five runs in the first inning, six in the second, and six in the third to take a 17-0 lead.

"It was good to get outside, in our ball park, on our field, and to get back the rhythm that we had before we left," Sanders said.

Hastings' starting pitcher Darin Zier faced NU's first seven batters and retired just one before being yanked. The right-handed freshman allowed five runs on two hits and four walks.

Five Bronco pitchers followed with minimal success — none lasting more than 2 2/3 innings. Sophomore right-hander Jarod Bearinger (3-0) earned the win for Nebraska, allowing one hit through five innings and striking out four. Four more Husker hurlers scattered two hits in the final four innings.

On the day, the Nebraska pitching staff allowed no runs on five hits while striking out 17 Bronco hitters. But the Husker bats took a game to heat up.

In game one, Hastings junior right-hander Casey Ray went five innings and allowed one run on five hits. Righty Shawn Kaskie followed surrendering three runs on three hits and three walks.

"We were just kind of flat at that point,"

Sanders said. "The second game, we played with more intensity and made some good things happened."

The Huskers return to conference play this weekend when they travel to Norman, Okla., to face 20th-ranked Oklahoma in a three-game series.

Nebraska then takes on No. 1 Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas, April 22 through 23, before returning home to play host to 15th-ranked Oklahoma State April 25 through 27.

"We have a tremendous stretch coming up," Sanders said. "We have nine games against Top 20 teams. But we've played quality opponents. I think our guys will meet the challenge."
