Taking (dis) out of disability

I'm too busy doing the things I love to dwell on my disability. MDA has helped make that possible for people with neuromuscular diseases. Because of the medical care and essential equipment like my wheelchair provided by MDA, muscular dystrophy doesn't stop me from achieving.

Even though I have muscular dystrophy, I got an education and started my own business. I won 18 gold medals at the National and International Games for the Disabled. I am a husband and father.

Thanks to MDA, my abilities are what matter.
