Daily Nebraskan

Summer Edition

Barbecued Bliss

Lincoln's first-ever RibFest was held last weekend outside of Pershing Auditorium, and from the looks of it, it was a success. A story in pictures. Page 3

Taking the Field

The entire Cornhusker squad is now at work in Fall Practice. And one former Husker has a few complaints for his former coaches and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Page 4

The Clock Keeps on Tickin'

For one particular female of the species, biology means more than dissecting frogs. It means clocks, as in biological ones. And it's ticking ... now. Page 5

Goin' Down South

Southern Hospitality, one of Lincoln's newest restaurants, is bringing a little bit of the Deep South to Lincoln by way of food. Page 8

Are You Paranoid Enough?

"Conspiracy Theory," the latest film from the Gibson-Donner-Silver team that brought audiences the entire "Lethal Weapon" trilogy, earns its keep as an action film. Too bad it could have been much more than that. Page 8

Recycled Sounds ... Relocated

Recycled Sounds, a record store that specializes in posters and used records and tapes, has moved from its original Haymarket location to the swank storefronts of O Street. Page 10

Rockin' at Red Rocks

Former Omaha band 311 is now touring in support of its latest album, "Transistor." And if their show at Red Rocks Amphitheater last weekend was any indication of how the rest of the tour will go, "Transistor" should be getting some pretty good support. Page 9
