Huskers earn wins at meet

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska men's and women's swimming teams came away with three victories competing in the U.S. National Team Invitational over the weekend.

The Cornhuskers and Auburn were the only two college teams competing in the meet, which mainly featured U.S. and international swimmers.

Husker Anna Windsor won the 400-meter freestyle on Friday and then won the 200-meter freestyle on Saturday.

NU sophomore Adam Pine finished first in the 100-meter butterfly with a time of 55.45 seconds while junior Valerjis Kalmikovs won the 200-meter breaststroke.

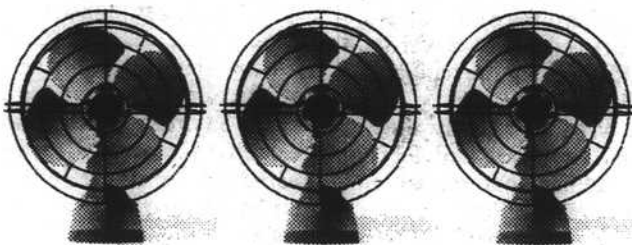

Christine Troy placed second in the 100-meter backstroke.

Former Husker and two-time Olympic Gold Medalist Penny Heyns also competed at the competition in Auburn, Ala., and finished second in the 200-meter breaststroke.

The Husker men will compete in a dual against Texas Christian University on Thursday, and the women will compete against Southern Methodist University on Friday.
