

Apply electronically for federal student aid. It's fast, free, and easy.

FAFSA EXPRESS

www.ed.gov/offices/OPE/express.html

Join us for Christian Music with John Lyons
8:00

425 University Terrace
(behind Pound Dorm)
www.ihec.org/college.htm
Patrick Abendroth
436-7177

Concert Tonight

Nebrasketball
GIVE IT A SHOT

Wanted.

NU Men vs. Western Illinois
Wednesday, November 19 at 7:05 pm

at Bob Devaney Sports Center

Corporate Sponsor:

CELLULARONE®

Call 472-3111 for tickets.

Shake It Up!

Earn the cash you need for school...and to make the holidays cool.

Our current full-time employees earn $9.00/hr.

After training you set your schedule to earn the maximum hourly wage.

We currently have openings for:

Full-time

Day or Evening
Teleservices
Representative

Part-time

Evening/Weekend
Teleservices
Representative

Casual dress and benefits for full and part-time.

* (30 hrs/wk for evening/weekend)

Call: 476-0445

Or Apply in Person:
Monday-Friday 10am-7pm
809 "P" Street, Lincoln, NE

ITI Marketing Services

Equal Opportunity Employer

Seniors say farewell

BY ANTONE OSEKA
Senior Reporter

When a person plays college football, sometimes he never wants to leave the field.

Like Saturday, when it was the players' last home game in front of 76,000 adoring fans in a place where they have never known defeat.

It gets to you, whether you're an intimidating defensive lineman or the swift-footed quarterback.

"I left everything I had on the field," senior NU quarterback Scott Frost said. "This is where somebody who'd want to play football should come. It's nice to see the appreciation."

Frost, who shouldered much of the blame and media pressure for last year's loss at Arizona State, has led the Huskers to a 10-0 record this season. When the Stanford transfer from Wood River was announced, the fans stood and applauded.

It was the last home game for 23 Nebraska seniors, including 11 starters.

"It was tough, it was emotional," NU defensive tackle Jason Peter said. "No matter what happens, I've had wonderful memories here. It was tough walking off that field."

"All good things come to an end, you know."

This group of seniors has gone 46-2 over the last four years, including two national titles and an undefeated season so far this year. They have never been defeated at home nor been ranked lower than sixth at the end of the season.

"It was really tough, trying to choke everything back, but we had a ballgame to play," Wistrom said. "I just tried to soak everything in one last time - one last tunnel walk, one last time walking out in front of the fans."

The best part, Wistrom said, was the special announcement every senior got, and the chance to thank 25-year Husker Coach Tom Osborne.

MICHAEL WARREN/DN
NEBRASKA COACH Tom Osborne shakes hands with senior linebacker Octavious McFarlin and wishes him well as he is introduced to the Memorial Stadium crowd for his last home game as a Cornhusker.

"Getting introduced, giving Coach Osborne a hug and saying thanks for everything he's ever done for me. Just hearing the roar of the Memorial Stadium crowd one more time," Wistrom said. "These are going to be things that are tough to let go of."

Peter and Wistrom agreed that if they had the college experience to do all over again, there would be no place like Nebraska. Peter said he wouldn't even take his recruiting visits to any other schools.

"No matter where I go or where I end up, this place is always going to be home to me," Wistrom said. "If I could do it all over again, I wouldn't be wearing any other color than the red and white."

"Whatever happens this year, we're not going to lose our next three games; but even if we did, I'm enjoying what I do. I love the guys I'm playing with. Football just doesn't get any more fun."

Notes:

Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne underwent routine tests Sunday morning at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Osborne was treated for a slightly irregular heartbeat, but it was not a life-threatening situation.

The 60-year old coach was given medication, and he returned to work Sunday afternoon where he and his staff began preparing for the Colorado game.

"I appreciate everyone's concern," Osborne said. "I am happy to say there are no major complications with my health. I am able to continue working as normal."

Nebraska junior I-back Ahman Green was named the CNN/SI College Football Player of the Week on Monday.

Green rushed for 209 yards on 15 attempts in the Huskers 77-14 win over Iowa State on Saturday.

NU pins down solid weekend

BY ANTONE OSEKA
Senior Reporter

Last weekend was a good start to what Nebraska Wrestling Coach Tim Neumann hopes to be a great season for the Nebraska wrestling team.

The Huskers opened their dual season with a 27-3 win over Wyoming in Laramie, Wyo., Friday night. In open competition Saturday and Sunday, individual wrestlers pulled off big wins and big upsets.

Nebraska won all but one match in the dual, as Brad Cooper substituted for the injured Temoer Terry at 158 pounds and lost to Wyoming's Jeremy Sell 8-6.

Nebraska started the dual on a roll and led 8-0 after just two weights: Paul Gomez scored a major decision with a 17-6 victory, and Jeramie Welder kept that streak alive with another major decision at 126, beating Corey Hamrick 15-6.

Brad Canoyer scored a win, beating Bryce Bochy 6-5 in a match Neumann said was one of the best of the dual.

"It was a really hard-fought win," Neumann said of Canoyer's match. "All of Bochy's points were escapes. That was a great match."

However, Canoyer won't be able to wrestle for a couple of weeks as the 134-pounder from Griswold, Iowa, injured his knee in Saturday's Cowboy Open in the first minute of his first match. Neumann expects Canoyer to sit out until the Las Vegas Cliff Keen Championships Dec. 5-6.

Neumann said he hopes his team will be strong enough to wrestle without a 134-pounder for the next few weeks.

Two of Nebraska's unsure weights came through with dual wins Friday night. Dusty Morris (142) and Ryan Bauer (150) pulled off one-point wins to extend the lead to 17-0 before Cooper's loss.

Morris, however, might be worried about job security early in the season. Fellow 142-pounder Jose DeAnda "looked spectacular" the whole weekend, Neumann said.

For the dual, Monte Christensen put NU back on the winning track at 167, beating Brandon Dansie 10-4 to extend Nebraska's lead to 20-3. Brad Vering and Scott Munson would add wins at 177 and 190 to end the scoring at 27-3.

Neither team sent a heavyweight on to the match, resulting in a double forfeit. Neumann said he didn't send senior Ryan Tobin out to accept the forfeit, because that will get him another match at the NWCA All-Star dual later in the season.

"We did a lot of great things," Neumann said. "It's coming together real nice."

The season started to come together for one wrestler this weekend. Abe Boomer, a backup heavyweight right now, defeated No. 2 Shelton Benjamin of Minnesota 7-6 at an open meet in North Dakota. He finished second while fellow NU heavyweight J.R. Plienis finished third.

"He did everything he was supposed to do," Nebraska Assistant Coach Mark Cody said. "He had a good strategy going out there."

Eddleman breaks from sore ankle

EDDLEMAN from page 7

ach."

Because Eddleman is one of the team's emotional leaders, she knew she had to play in the first-round NCAA game against Michigan.

Eddleman said not being able to practice all week was frustrating, but there was no way her injury was going to keep her out of the game with the Wolverines.

"Something has to be broken for me to sit out," Eddleman said.

Walker said he knew by Thursday that Eddleman would be able to play, but he held her out of practice on Friday and Saturday to make sure she didn't re-aggravate her ankle.

Eddleman limped at times during the Michigan game, but she had quick bursts when she needed to.

She dribbled around several Wolverine players and set up Kim Engesser at 28:18 for NU's first goal. She used a similar move to score NU's second goal at 31:21 into the game.

Eddleman scored again at 47:59. On this play, she tweaked her ankle a little bit, but she said it didn't matter because the ball went in.

"My ankle is a little sore, but I can play like I am 100 percent," Eddleman said.

She said she will get treatment twice a day and be ready to perform in this Sunday's game at 1:30 p.m. with No. 2 Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind.