

'Lame Gain' bill stops intelligence at Nebraska borders, blah, blah

BY TODD LER
Our Little Français Fry

The Legislature approved an amendment Tuesday to the so-called "Lame Gain" bill proposed by Sen. Hunka Hunka Bruning Love of Omaha.

Bruning Love, the original sponsor of the bill, proposed an amendment to a Gov. Bennie Smellsome proposal that would make sure students who receive scholarships from the state stay within its borders for three years after graduation.

Legislature

Utilizing the state's ownership of a satellite and a top-of-the-line tracking sensor inserted into the scholarship recipients' brains, the state patrol will be able to monitor the movements of graduates as they near Nebraska's borders.

"The operation to insert the chip into the cranium is virtually painless and leaves temporary scarring," Bruning Love said.

"All we're asking for is complete servitude for three years," he said. "We give you money, you give us a small part of your life."

But that's not all. At the request of Nebraska Attorney General Dom Neuremberg, Sen. Katie Never Withit proposed an amendment to hire the National Pet Protection Co. to install an electric field around the state.

Never Withit said any graduate of the scholarship program who tried to leave the state would receive a "sharp electric jolt."

Neuremberg said that electrocution would be an effective means of controlling workers' behavior.

"If those whiny little brats get within five feet of Colorado, they'll be zapped to kingdom come,"

Neuremberg said, wringing his hands in delight.

Bruning Love then proposed to allow women to opt out of the surveillance program if they give up their firstborn child to the state.

He said it would be more ethical, and besides, the children could be used as unpaid errand runners in the Capitol's chamber.

"We'd no longer have to pay those little twerps to fetch our coffee."

Weezer, NUL officials part of $moke $creen

BY MILES DAVIS
King of Soul

The chancellor and his comrade are heading for Marlboro Country, and they're raking in the dough while they're at it.

A Daily Harassment exclusive investigative report has revealed that NUL Chancellor Jamz Weezer and Nebraska Union/Homeless Shelter Director Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson, have been peddling cigarettes in the back of the Cornfield Administration Building.

The cigarette sales are illegal under Nebraska State Statute CIG-666, because neither Weezer nor Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson have applied for a tobacco license.

Lanscrapper County Attorney Very "never-call-you-back" Racy could not be reached for comment. Never. Ever.

NUL Police Chief Hen Gobble said an investigation has revealed that several key university administrators are involved in the cigarette sales ring.

Gobble said police found Weezer and Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson selling cigarettes to student government second vice president Ragin' Amy.

Ragin' said she was part of a sting operation the Association of Nimwits in University Scandal organized to catch the cigarette smugglers in the act.

"I will fine the hell out of both of them!" Ragin' said while puffing on a Pall Mall.

And then Ragin' said something else.

Weezer said though he makes more than $300,000 each year, he will not pay any fines because he said he was not a part of the cigarette ring.

"I just want to increase the academic rigor on this campus," he said.

Police said a trench coat full of cigarette packs - including brands like Marlboro, Kool, Virginia Slims and Shur Fine - were taken from Weezer.

Pinned on the coat, Gobble said, was a button that read "I love organ music, Falstaff beer and academic rigor."

But Weezer said the coat was not his.

"I certainly do not drink beer - and definitely not Falstaff beer," Weezer said.

Weezer said he represented the university at many social functions, at which alcohol is served.

"Now, I'm certainly tanked most of the time like any good administrator, but I absolutely do not drink cheap beer," he said.

Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson said he also was unaware of any illegal cigarette sales.

"Cigarettes are immoral," Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson said, "and I mean to banish them from this campus at all costs - specifically $593.32 added to student fees."

Both Weezer and Darrell, Darrell and his other brother Svenson have pledged to ban all cigarettes from Nebraska Union/Homeless Shelter.

NUL Regent Stu Killer said this alleged activity was one more reason all administrators should be fired and replaced by computers.

NUL kisses cola a$$

Weezer's lips found firmly planted on Peepsi's butt

BY RICE BLEND
Grammar Boy

In the strictest move since the NUL-Peepsi Cola beverage alliance went into effect, Chancellor Jamz Weezer announced all television sets and computers are being removed from campus because administrators have no way to prevent students from seeing Cooke-Coola advertisements or logging on to Cooke Web sites.

Weezer said the removals are necessary to comply with the second of three phases in the Peepsi contract.

Phase one - the removal of all Cooke products from campus, is complete. Phase two, now under way, involves re-educating students who still prefer Cooke.

Phase three will be a vast campaign of gangland-style fear and intimidation against those who still do not comply.

Weezer said the University of No Learning would have lost 79 cents of the $405 billion it is receiving from Peepsi if it did not remove the televisions and computers. But he said he understands student frustration.

"It's unfortunate that we had to take this step," he said. "We want our students to be able to make their own choices. But what we want even more are ridiculous, obscene amounts of money."

Several students took solace in learning that negotiations were under way to make the QVC Shopping Network the sole TV network available at NUL.

Peepsi Director of Re-education Joseph Goebbels III said he is pleased with the announcement.

"This is an important step in our joint effort to erase Cooke-Coola from the annals of history," he said. "I should add that all who oppose us will walk knee-deep in the blood of their children."

Some students voiced their displeasure with the announcement, including sophomore civil engineering major Marty Richards, who said he plans to transfer to the University of Choke-kansas in Larry, Kan., which has a contract with Cooke.

Richards later was found brutally murdered in his residence hall room. On a wall, scrawled in blood, were the words: "Generation: Who's

"Yet it also sends the message that if you don't enjoy our product we will travel the lengths of the earth to hunt you down and destroy you."

JOSEPH GOEBBELS III
director of re-education

Fcking NEXT?!"

Goebbels denied Peepsi's involvement in the incident, despite the message's striking similarity to the popular Peepsi slogan "Generation: Next." He said that slogan has been abandoned for a new one: "In time we will rule the world."

"It's catchy - the kids will love it," he said. "Yet it also sends the message that if you don't enjoy our product we will travel the lengths of the earth to hunt you down and destroy you."

In related news, Assistant English Professor of Rap, Race Relations and Media Manipulation, David Heckler was put on secret double probation for distributing e-mail prose that makes several references to Cooke, even though the prose supports Peepsi.

ANUS Watch

ANUS$ spends oodles to cheat

BY JESSICA JUST FARTED
Smelly Reporter

Last night the truth came out. Receipts and invoices from businesses not listed on Association of Nimwits in University Scandal financial reports from March were leaked to the Daily Harassment Tuesday night, the night before the official swearing-in of the new ANUS president.

Ralph Lauren Polo gear, thousands of bottles of laxatives and male escorts were used for dirty campaigning by SUBMIT candidates.

More than $6,789,063,890 was spent by SUBMIT, which was peanuts compared to the 13 cents that INCISION's Juan Weakman and Just Masked Me blew on the elections.

SUBMIT is refuting claims by INCISION that it bought the elections and actually contributed to the moral decline of the "campus community."

But new president Sumo Rustler said she did not contribute to moral decline - in fact, everyone looks a lot better thanks to SUBMIT.

"We provided the entire geek system with Ralph Lauren turtle-necks, underwear and sweaters," Rustler said. "They have expensive taste."

Weakman accused INCISION of not being "diverse" in choosing its clothing lines and said a lot of geeks already have these things.

"I would like to see more Tommy Givethefinger and Anne Whine worn by candidates for ANUS positions," he said.

Weakman also accused SUBMIT of doping its drinks at the post-election party at the Dead End Zone with thousands of laxatives.

"Man, I got to the party, had a drink, and three minutes later I was on the pot," he said. "For three hours."

Masked Me said the elections actually did "clean me out," physically as well as financially.

It is not easy to earn the kind of money INCISION spent on the elections, Masked Me said.

"I worked hard for that 13 cents. I stood a full five hours on O Street as people threw change at me," Masked Me said.

Rustler and SUBMIT went a little further.

Rustler also reportedly hired 16 male student "escorts" to boost morale at a SUBMIT "work party" at Rustler's sorority house.

Daily Harassment

Editors: Pasta Lasagne
Manhandling Editor: Bad Loins
Ass Is Sweet Editor: Urine Shuttle
Ass Kickin Editor: Ned Nailedher
Argument Editor: Air N. Greets'em
Opinion Editor: Baby Gerber
Shorts Editor: Garth Wannabe
S&M Editor: Def Scandel
Sloppy Desk Chief: Rice Blend
Phat Director: Buyin' Sod Land
Resign Co-Chiefs: J. Me. Zorro
Toni the Tiger
Fart Director: Big Papa
Hardonline Editor: Eggo Burns

Questions? Comments? Kles off.
Screw you and leave us alone or e-mail us at DN@BLOWME.COM
Asst. Underling: Any Pendleton
Gen. Manabore: Dan the Man
Humiliations Bored: Running Miles,
Hatrwoman: (402) 472-7211
Call this guy: Dawn Wouldn't
(402) 472-72111
Fanhandler: I.M. Partched,
(402) $$$-$$$
Naive Director: Dusting Back
Classy Ass Manager: Speck O. Dust

Facts number: (402) 472-6666
World Wide Web: www.nul.edu/DailyHar/
The Daily Harassment comes out whenever we damn well please. Don't send anything to us. Send subscriptions to your mom. The public has access to the Humiliations Board, where nothing really happens but, hey, there's free lemonade when you're lucky.
Readers are encouraged to submit to the Daily Harassment by calling your mom.
Subscriptions are $1 million for one year.
Postmaster: Send money to the Daily Harassment, P.O. Box 6969, Natchez, Mississippi.
ALL MATERIAL COTTON-BLEND WASH COLD COLOR SEPARATE 1998
THE DAILY HARRASSMENT