Tennis player arrested

University of Nebraska-Lincoln police arrested a University of Colorado tennis player for stealing a large, vinyl Big 12 Conference sign from the courts where the conference was held this weekend.

Third-ranked doubles player and sixth-ranked singles player Kevin Grieve was arrested for stealing the banner, valued at $500, from the tennis courts early Saturday morning, UNL Police Sgt. Mylo Bushing said.

The 22-year-old junior was in jail all day Saturday until 6 p.m. when he could post the $50 bond.

In addition to the theft charge, Grieve faces disciplinary action from CU. Head Tennis Coach Scott Davidoff said Grieve will not be participating in the NCAA Tournament and could face additional penalties after his court date.

"This will hurt the team, but it had to be done," Davidoff said of the disciplinary action.

Lincoln couple arrested

Police seized methamphetamine, cocaine and more than $1,500 cash from a Lincoln home Sunday night.

Omaha Police followed an individual from Omaha to the home of Randall and Pamela Vajgrt on the 4800 block of J Street in Lincoln, according to a police affidavit.

After the individual left the Vajgrt house, Omaha Police stopped the car where they found about a kilogram of suspected methamphetamine and cocaine.

Narcotics officers seized 59.5 grams of suspected methamphetamine, 109.5 grams of suspected cocaine, $1,662 cash and drug paraphernalia including scales, straws, pipes and mirrors, all with drug residue.

Randall Vajgrt, 32, and Pamela Vajgrt, 33, were arrested on two charges each of drug possession with the intent to deliver and one count of possession of drug paraphernalia.
