

LEFT: A GROUP OF BOYS rides along the MoPac trail Saturday. The trail starts in Lincoln and continues 22 miles into the country winding through wooded areas, corn fields and small towns.

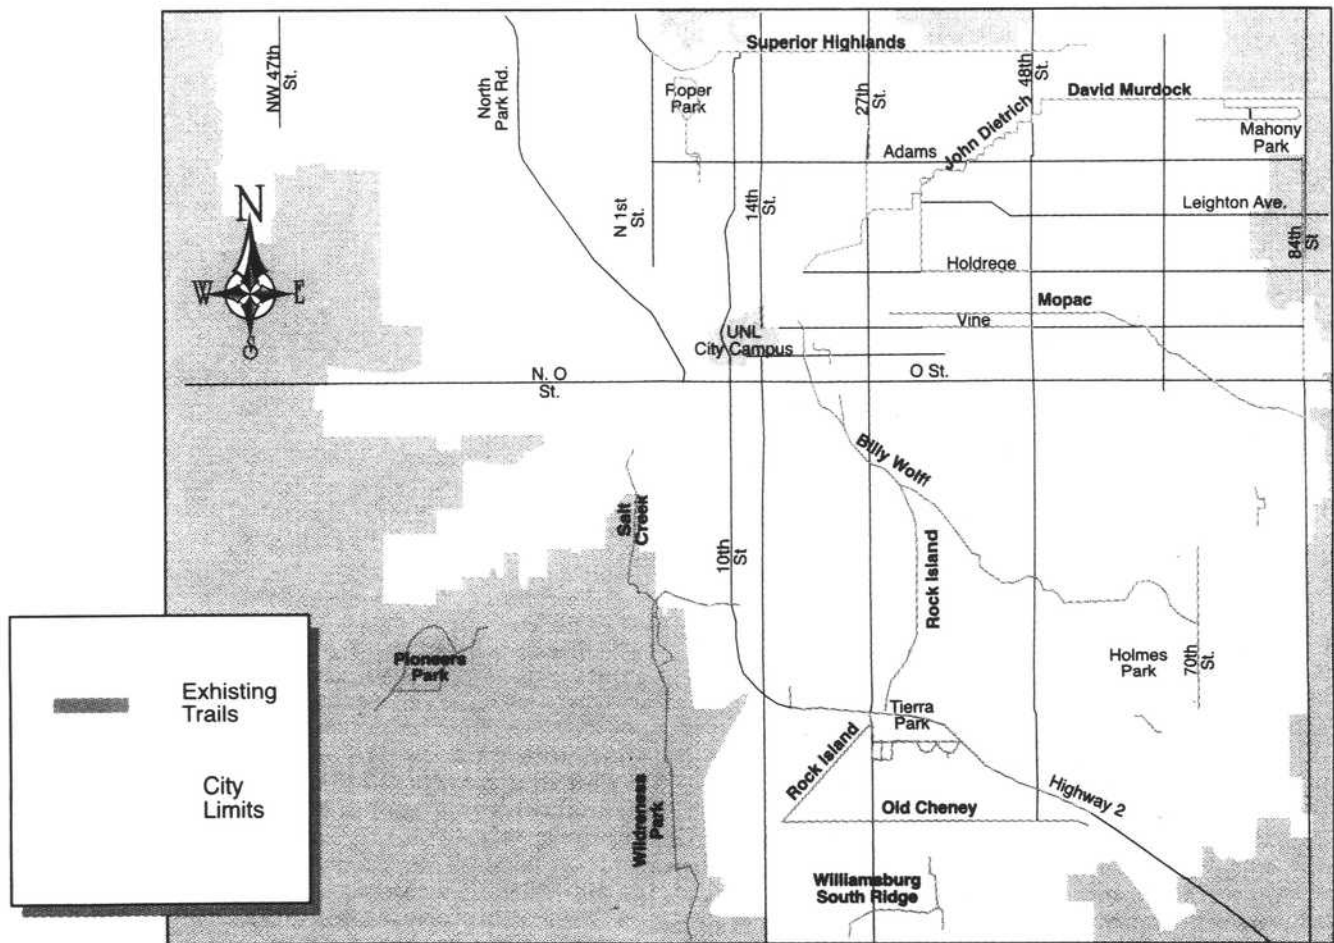

ABOVE: A biker checks his wheel as the sun sets on Saturday evening.

RIGHT: A YOUNG GIRL rides into the tunnel, which cuts under the intersection of 27th Street and Capitol Parkway. Using the tunnel helps avoid traffic and possible accidents.

Master Plan

Lincoln's trail system is currently more than 72 miles long. The system continues to expand each year with new trails being built and linked to one another.
