

Fraternity runs for lung association

RUN from page 1

cause.

"The greek system is here to help out," Petermann said.

Lambda Chi has set a $15,000 goal for this event. All of the money raised will help fund programs through the American Lung Association.

The main contributors to this year's run are the Nebraska Bookstore, Burger King, Valentino's, Amigos, The Cookie Company, Lazzari's, Apple Inn of Nebraska City and Corporate Creations of Omaha.

Sponsorship is $200 per runner. Private donations also are being accepted. In addition, each member of the fraternity is required to raise $50 in private donations.

This is the third fund-raiser the fraternity has done to benefit the Lung Association. Four years ago, Lambda Chi Alpha had its Storming Norman run, similar to this year's Ambushing Arrowhead.

The fraternity also sponsored a trampoline-a-thon last year.

Scott Moller, development associate for the American Lung Association, said that the fraternity has raised more than $30,000 for the Lung Association. Moller, who is a Lambda Chi Alpha and UNL alumnus, organized and participated in Storming Norman in 1994.

The money the fraternity has raised has been divided between three different programs.

■ Asthma Busters, an educational program that rewards kids who have asthma with prizes for learning about how to take care of themselves.

■ Tobacco is Trash, an informational program that hands out magnets and stickers to children to teach them smoking is not cool.

■ Smokeless Caravan, a group of college students who go to elementary, middle and high schools to put on skits about the dangers and consequences of smoking.

"(The run) is a great project because there are so many people involved - the two universities, the entire greek system, the Lung Association and Lambda Chi Alpha," Moller said.

The destination of the run is the Husker Huddle, which includes a catered dinner, guest speakers, an appearance by the NU Spirit Squad and various other pre-game activities.

The alumni association is host of a Husker Huddle prior to each home and away Husker football games. Seating for each Husker Huddle is reserved, and tickets cost $25 per person.

Marc Shkolnick, director of alumni relations for the UNL Alumni Association, expects this Husker Huddle to be the second largest ever with nearly 1,000 fans. The huddle in California two weeks ago had 1,500 fans in attendance.

The alumni association is providing discounted meals for students from Lambda Chi Alpha after they arrive at the huddle around 3 p.m. Runners also receive complimentary tickets to the game.

Greeks pedal to Missouri for 'Krusade'

BY SONJA HEGGE
Staff writer

The men from Alpha Gamma Nu Fraternity and the women of Delta Gamma Sorority are taking turns riding bicycles to Kansas City, Mo., in the fraternity's Krusade to K.C. philanthropy.

The Krusade of bicycles will deliver a game ball for Saturday's matchup of Nebraska and Oklahoma State.

Alpha Gamma Nu expects to raise about $1,200 to benefit First Plymouth Preschool. The fraternity received donations from local businesses.

First Plymouth Preschool serves more than 250 children from different racial, religious and socioeconomic backgrounds. More than 20 percent of the students receive tuition assistance through the preschool's scholarship program.

The bicycle relay began today at 7:30 a.m. from the greenspace north of the Nebraska Union.

The relay will end at Arrowhead Stadium sometime before kickoff during Saturday's game.

This is the 12th year that the fraternity has ridden to an away NU football game.

Huskers fans travel south to cheer team

MIGRATE from page 1

pep band, spirit squad, Scarlet and Cream singers and the radio voice of the Huskers, Warren Swain.

"The rally is in an area where young and old can enjoy Kansas City," York said.

Following the pep rally there will be a dance inside the Beaumont Club at 7:30 p.m. for fans.

Both the rally and the dance are free, but space at the dance is limited by the 1,500-person capacity of the club.

Other than the pep rally and dance, fans will be on their own today, but there should be no shortage of activity in Kansas City.

According to the city's tourism department, there is a lot going on this weekend.

Saturday, most of the fans' activities will be centered in the Arrowhead Stadium parking lots.

York called it "the best tailgating in football," and after Saturday, Nebraska fans will be able to make that distinction themselves.

Before fans enter the stadium for the 6 p.m. kickoff, they can enjoy the taste of a hobo steak grilled on the back of their own car, or they can attend any one of the numerous pre-game tailgate parties.

P.O. Pears and the Nebraska

"The rally is in an area where young and old can enjoy Kansas City."

RANDY YORK

alumni association event coordinator

Alumni Association will start their tailgate parties at 3 p.m. in different sections of the parking lot.

The alumni-sponsored Husker Huddle will feature the Scarlet and Cream singers, the Spirit Squad, UNL Chancellor James Moeser and a whole lot of barbecue in parking section K.

Tickets will be $25 at the event, but there was only limited space available Thursday, said Julie Peterson of the Alumni Association.

The P.O. Pears party, featuring the sounds of Paul and Joyce from the Sidetrack Tavern and the band Fishheads, will be located in parking section D.

All the food tickets have been sold, but for $20 fans can have beverages to their heart's content, P.O. Pears owner Bob Jergensen said.

"The bars of Lincoln are moving south."

Kansas City scenes

Restaurants

Stroud's Restaurant
1015 E. 85th St.
(816) 333-2132

The best way to eat here is by number. Just tell the server how many are in your party, and he'll bring enough chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy and other assorted artery-cloggers. The specialty here is pan-fried chicken.

Hereford House
20th and Main streets
(816) 842-1080

There are plenty of places in K.C. to grab a good steak - a city treasure - but only a few truly great places. The Hereford House is the best. It's not cheap, but it has the best meat.

Gates' Barbecue
3205 Main St. (816) 753-0828
1221 Brooklyn Ave. (816) 483-3880

It's hardly a secret - only because Gates' is so good. Get in line and get ready, 'cause the help will be screaming for your orders right quick.

Fiorella's Smokestack of Martin City
13441 Holmes Road
(816) 942-9141

For those who prefer to sit down when they order and eat off a table, not a plastic tray. It's a ways out in south Kansas City, but worth the trip.

Nightlife
Harrah's North Kansas City Casino

1 Riverboat Drive (off Route 210)
The mix of folks on Missouri's best riverboat casino is enough to make the trip worthwhile. But you have to be 21 years old.

The Plaza
Off Ward Parkway, near the University of Missouri-Kansas City

It's not a single business, but an area of Kansas City that's almost a second downtown. There are plenty of restaurants and bars to choose from. Plus, there are plenty of shops open during the day, if you're not into football.

Westport
Westport Road and Main Street.
A lot like the Plaza, but without the restaurants and the shops. It's all bars and brewpubs.

Grand Emporium Saloon
3822 Main St.
(816) 531-1504
Live music and hot food. Go. Trust. Enjoy.

Kennedy's Bar and Grill
7428 Washington St.
(816) 361-9788

This place isn't well-known, but the place across the street is. Avoid the crowd at the overhyped 75th Street Brewery and enjoy a frosted beverage at Kennedy's.

Kelly's Bar
500 Westport Road
(816) 561-0635

A dump of a place. The oldest building in KC - but perfect for a bar.

Gomer's Fine Wine and Spirits
9902 Holmes St.
(816) 942-6200

Drinkers who want to bypass the bars for the comfort of your hotel room should hit Gomer's, a classic liquor store in the heart of Kansas City. They've got everything you could possibly want.

Selected and compiled by sports writer David Scott of the Columbia Missourian.

"Dogs love us 'cause we're crazy sniffable"
DAILY NEBRASKAN ONLINE

Win a
Free trip for two to
Oktoberfest '99
in Munich, Germany

courtesy of
Old Chicago including:

- ▶ airfare for two
- ▶ transportation
- ▶ hotel accommodations for one week
- ▶ VIP brewery tours,
- ▶ VIP seating at Oktoberfest '99
- ▶ and bragging rights for the rest of your beer drinking days.

We're also giving away an authentic German beer stein with free pizza for one full year to a lucky winner in every Old Chicago.

But hurry, registration ends on October 15th.

Get down to Old Chicago, sample some great Oktoberfest beers from around the world and while you're at it register to win this free, once-in-a-lifetime trip to Germany.

1111 Harney Omaha, NE 68102
13110 Birch Dr. #180 Omaha, NE 68164
826 "P" St. Lincoln, NE 68508

