Summer won't stop some Husker teams

BY JAKE BLEED
 Staff writer

Several athletic teams are still continuing their seasons, even though the Daily Nebraskan is not.

No one said goodbye to April with more enthusiasm than the Nebraska baseball team. After ending March by sweeping then No. 8 Texas in a three-game series, the Huskers went 10-9 in April, including a loss to Texas Tech. The No. 24 Huskers (30-15 overall, 13-9 in the Big 12 conference) were one of eight teams to make the Big 12 tournament, the first time since 1995 and the Big 8.

May ends with Regionals. The College World Series begins June 11. The Nebraska softball team played its last two games of the regular season against Missouri Sunday losing both 2-1. The Huskers (27-18 overall, 9-8 Big 12 conference) split a double header with Kansas on Saturday behind the slugging of junior Jennifer Lizama. The All-American hit her 11th and 12th home runs of the year Saturday.

Softball Big 12s are scheduled for May 15, Regionals May 21 and the NCAA World Series May 27.

The Nebraska men's golf finished second in the Big 12 tournament last week and jumped up to No. 14 nationally. The team lost to Kansas by two strokes. The Perry Maxwell invitational tournament on May 15 is the last of the season. The NCAA central regional tournament is May 15. The women's golf team was eighth at the Big 12 meet and is not expected to make NAAs.

After winning in the first round of the Big 12 tournament over No. 32 Texas Tech, the Nebraska men's tennis team lost to No. 1 seed Texas 4-1.

No. 66 NU finished the tournament 10-12 overall and 5-5 in the Big 12. Thursday's victory will help NU's chances of making the NCAA tournament this month.

Playing on the same courts in College Station, Texas, the Nebraska women's tennis team also lost in the second round to the Longhorns. After beating Kansas 5-2, the Huskers fell to Texas 5-0, finishing the season at 17-9 overall and 5-7 in the Big 12.

The Nebraska track team experienced less success that it has in the past, but still got a Big 12 Indoor title from long jumper Dalhia Ingram. Shane Lavy continued his strong high jumping career with a 7-foot-5-inch jump this season. The women's 4x400 meter relay team was also successful, capturing the title at the USA Indoor Championships.

In the outdoor season, a return from Scott Warren has vastly helped the cause of the Huskers as they enter the Big 12 Outdoor Championships and the NCAA Outdoor Championships.
