Looking For Graduate Student To Serve As An Advisor In Residence For A UNL Fraternity

University of Nebraska Fraternity is looking for a male graduate student with background in education and or leadership development to serve as a live-in advisor. Position would include academic counseling and program development as well as leadership, ethics, values and conflict resolution education for the membership and support for executive officers in areas of rule enforcement. Position would work in conjunction with House Parent and would report directly to Alumni Advisor(s) and National Fraternity Office.

Although having been a member of a fraternity would be beneficial to such a person, it is not a requirement of the position.

Benefits include $2000 annual salary to be paid every two weeks in the approximate amount of $125.00. There is a potential $1000 bonus if goals established and general reporting requirements are met. Also included is free room and board (a single room at no cost and all meals). Other financial opportunities may be provided and discussed at time of interview.

Specific areas of programming will be identified as needing attention and outlined as part of the job expectations and requirements. We will provide a weekend training program (this summer) through our National Fraternity as well as additional training and understanding of issues and responsibilities through a series of meetings over the summer with alumni advisors.

This role would begin in the fall of 2000 and serve through the spring of 2001 with options for extending the contract to be considered.

Interested candidates should submit cover letter and resume, no later than Friday, April 28, 2000, to:
