R. E. Dinges, '92 visited the Uni this week.

Don Cameron's lunch counter 114 So. 11th, street.

Miss Gregory smole her annual smile Wednesday.

The Varsity Rifles' Ball promises to be a swell affair.

The senior girls look real sweet in their new gowns.

If you see it in the state capitol it is Chancellor Canfield.

Miss Disco, a last year's student visited the Uni this week.

J. H. Johnson has an appointment at the State House.

Lieutenant Pershing went to Chicago during the holidays.

T. J. Thorp's is the place to go to have your skates sharpened.

Steiner Jr. looks like Little Billee Evin the combing of his hair.

For '97 class pins call at E. Fleming's, the jeweler, 1224 O st.

They say McLucas got a great Christmas present. How about it?

A rare opportunity now to clothe yourself cheap at the Ewing Clothing Co.

Mr. W. O. Jones was out of town this week and his classes did not meet as usual.

Tom Hall, '90, was renewing acquaintances around the university this week.

Miss Parker announces that she will give instruction in wood carving free of charge.

W. L. Carney has left the University to accept the position of teacher in Filmore county.

As was predicted in the NEBRASKAN a Zoological club was formed. It will meet every week.

Professor Bate's article read before the teachers' association was very favorably spoken of by all.

Ed Morrill is rapidly recovering from his injury. He is able to be out but he will have to use crutches for some time.

One of the most influential and able of our legislators is Randolph McNitt, of Red Cloud, formerly a member in the university.

Engene Parks, an electric of last year attended the teachers' association. He is teaching out West somewhere in a high school.

"Jack" Brady, of Kearney, formerly a member of the class of '95 has just been installed as messenger to the chief clerk of the house.

If you want to send THE NEBRASKAN to a friend or former student now is the time. Take advantage of our extraordinary offer.

A good many of the student's avail themselves of the opportunity of skating at the Beach these beautiful moonlight nights. Better be careful boys the "end" if drawing nigh.

The offer that has been posted up on THE NEBRASKAN bulletin board will last but a few days: "A holiday number and THE NEBRASKAN for the rest of the year for 50 cents.

For Sale.—A set of encyclopedia Britannica, Ninth Edition, with American revisions and additions, at a greatly reduced price, for cash or on time. Address F. T. Riley care of Nebraskan.

Reversible Ties 25c and 50c.

The New Club House Ties 50c.

W. R. D.—"Are gym-girls the same as tom-boys?"

B:—"No, sir, I know of no one to whom I ever gave my note!"

A:—"Some people can't give notes,

Hon. Fred Barnes, '96, has signed with Manager Ebright for the season of '95. Hold 'em down, Fred, hold 'em down!

Through the efforts of Prof. Kimball of the conservatory of music, Thomas' orchestra will play in Lincoln about April 15th.

Don Cameron's lunch counter 114 So. 11th, St. Fish and game in season. The nicest restaurant for students in the city. Try it.

Don't forget the fact that it is money in your pocket now to attend the dissolution sale at the Ewing Clothing Co. It is on till the evening of the 19th, but no longer.

Miss Gertrude Smith, who was so well known to the students, has been obliged to give up her position; the fund for paying her only lasting nine months during the year.

Miss Korsenger of the class of '93 has taken charge of Prof. Burnet's classes. She has studied since she left here, having spent a year at Chicago, and she certainly comes well prepared in her subject.

Mrs. Peattie of Omaha will deliver the second address in the lecture course of the Christian associations next Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. The subject will be "The Influence of Christianity on Literature."

Ernie Haughton returned this week from Washington, D. C., where he attended the convention of the S. A. E. He says he shook hands with Grover and Willie Wilson. (England) Maybe he did; he certainly looks pale enough.

To illustrate the changeableness of Nebraska weather within the last three days, according to Whipple, there have been fifteen different weather flags floating from the flag-staff. (Of course the weather didn't change a bit.)

Misses May Lewis and Gertrude Marsland, together with Messrs. Marlay, Barber, and Reed, spent several days of their vacation in Fremont as the guests of the Misses Gray. All report a very pleasant time and are loud in their praises of Fremont and of the hospitality of their hosts.

A meeting of the Athletic association is to be called soon to consider a change in the constitution and other matters of importance, among them to set a date for field day, appoint committees and so forth. The prospect for a good live scrap over the constitution is very promising, and it is expected every member will be present.

With one member of the senior class dismissed from the university for theft, another member of the same class under suspicion of dishonesty in connection with the senior themes; and suspension hanging closely over a student somewhat lower in rank for attempting to convert the property of another student to her own use—it looks as though complaint about lax discipline at this institution is without foundation.

Valuable additions have been made in the French department during the holidays, especially in the line of French novels. Quite a number of Balzac's stories and ninety-one of George Sand's were secured at one swoop.

The crowd that you will see at the Ewing Clothing Co. these days is a convincing argument that they must be selling clothing and furnishing goods very cheap. They are selling at actual cost—50 cents on the dollar, just as they advertise.

The senior girl is abroad in the land. Could you have seen her smile of satisfaction last Wednesday morning as she noticed the lower classmen gaze at her with awe and admiration you would have wondered if it wasn't a nice thing, after all, to be a senior girl.

John W. Dixon of Yale university, who graduated here last year, has been heard from. He congratulates the university on its rapid advancement and especially on its success in athletics. Dixon will graduate there this year and probably study law in the Yale Law school.

The senior class evidently believes in woman suffrage. At the class election, held just before the holidays, every office was given to a lady by a unanimous vote. The following were elected:

President, Miss Grace Bridge. Vice-President, Miss Martha Burks.

Secretary, Miss Olivia Pound. Treasurer, Miss Mable Lindley.

Class Poet, Miss Katherine Melick.

Sargeant-at-Arms, Mis Ella McCrosky.

'95 is certainly to be congratulated on the able women it possesses.

At the armory on Tuesday evening Misses Barr and Wilder gave a reception to the young women of the physical training classes, and Lieutenant Pershing to the cadets. Over two hundred students availed themselves of the opportunity of thus spending what promised to be a very delightful evening. An additional nice feature was the pictures of the Haydon Art exhibit which still adorned the walls of the armory. During the evening music was furnished by the university conservatory orchestra. Many town people came to see the Haydon art exhibit and were surprised and delighted at the reception and especially at the refreshments which they supposed to be a part of the entertainment.

Dr. Britton, Professor of Botany in Columbia College, says of the "Flora of Nebraska" in "Science." "It is hard to find words to express our gratification at its appearance, and we have tried in vain to find any point which is fairly open to adverse criticism. Beginning with a synopsis of the larger groups, including families, and an introduction contributed by Professor Bessey, in the details of which there is room for much difference of opinion, there follow concise description of the classes, orders, families, genera, species, and varieties of Protophyta and Phycophyta, found within the state contributed by Mr. Dr. Alton and Saunders, and of the Coleochaetaceae and Characeae by Mr. Albert F. Woods. The descriptions are well drawn, the typography excellent and the plates accurate and well executed. We tender our cordial congratulations to all concerned in the production of the book and to all who may have opportunity to use it."
