At the recent meeting of the class of '99, E. A. Shuff was unanimously elected president.

There promises to be an interesting scrap among the law students over election of officers Saturday.

William Reed Dunroy of poetic fame was initiated into the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity last Friday evening.

Several of the Senior boys, who will have about all their credits in at the end of this semester, expect to enter the junior law class next semester.

Miss Jones, our librarian, was so unfortunate as to be thrown from a buggy last week. The injuries she received, although slight, have kept her from the library.

The preparations for Company B's "blow-out" are about completed. The admission tickets have been printed and are now on sale. They can be secured from any member of the committee.

Orations will have to be in on or before February 1. The judges will be elected as soon as possible. Those who expect to enter this contest and have announced their intentions, are Miss Bullock, Messrs. Leavitt, Sherman, Abbott, and McNeal.

Mr. H. H. Wilson and wife entertained the senior and graduate classes of the law school at their home, on Sixteenth street, Saturday evening. For once in their lives the "laws" had a good time and all are loud in their praises of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's hospitality.

The class in Browning under Professor Sherman has read a number of the shorter poems besides the plays of "Tennyson," "Return of the Druses," and "Chamblé's Birthday" this semester. The work has been very interesting and this class has kept up its enthusiasm.

The English Club has been doing some good work this year. Last Saturday evening the club met with Prof. Bates and to-morrow evening Prof. and Mrs. Adams will entertain. It is the intention of the club to publish an annual magazine containing the best productions of the various members.

The arrangements for the junior promenade are being pushed most energetically. Tickets will be on sale to juniors Monday, and on general sale to University students Wednesday of next week. They may be obtained of V. R. McLucas, J. P. Sedgwick and W. D. Reed. Only seventy-five will be sold, since this number is all the hall will contain.

Mr. H. A. Reese has been persuaded to take hold of the Glee Club again. The boys have done practically nothing so far this year. Lack of harmony among the members, scarcity of material, and above all, no competent leader, have handicapped the club. From now on the boys will practice six nights in a week. A tour of the state will be made in the spring about the same time as last year. The club is under the same management as last year: Manager, H. H. Reese; assistant manager, Fred Cooley.

The following receipt was received from Mr. Ludden, secretary of the State Relief Committee:

LINCOLN, NEB., Jan. 19, '95.
 Received of A. B. Lyon two hundred and ninety-four dollars and six-tenths cents ($294.62), being a result of the collection taken at the State University by the students and faculty. Same has been credited on the state relief books, and will be expended in the purchasing of food supplies and fuel as the demand may be upon the commission.
 LUTHER P. LUDDEN, Sec'y.

In the lower hall—His Highness—"A bottle of gasoline is a very dangerous thing to handle at night my young friend."

His Young Friend—"Dangerous! Why, Hully Gee we're not going to drop lighted matches into it!"

At the "Chums" Rehearsal—H. S.—"Now, sir, if you have a lucid interval I wish you'd tell me why you never told me why-er-r-r-why you never said why you could never—Say fellows what are those lines? I guess we will have to "abandon" them wont we?"

Sievking's Recital.

The second artists' recital was given by Mr. Martinus Sievking assisted by Miss Susie Schofield in the chapel of the University on Wednesday evening. The chapel was comfortably filled at an early hour. The program as published in last week's NEBRASKAN was carried out with the exception of two encores.

Mr. Sievking was in excellent trim and captured his audience as soon as his hands touched the piano. His selections were admirably well chosen to show to good advantage the wonderful mastery he possesses over all the shades of passion and tenderness.

In Ase's Death he showed a great depth of tenderness. One felt the awfulness of a hopeless sorrow, the bitterness of a deep despair as the great volume of solemn sounds came from the piano.

In Antitra's dance which is a light tripping selection, Mr. Sievking showed a splendid technique. This selection was well received because of its pretty simplicity.

The duet "Danse Macabre" by Miss Schofield and Mr. Sievking was a remarkable performance. Great fire and passion was displayed and on being recalled they repeated the selection.

The fire scene from the Gotterdammerung was the gem of the evening. It is a bewilderingly beautiful selection and handled only as an artist could handle it.

Without a doubt there is no pianist in this country whose style is so like the great Paderewski. The people of Lincoln are most highly honored in having in their midst such an accomplished musician as Mr. Sievking and it is to be hoped that he may be here often.
