Miss Tuttle spent Sunday in Hastings.

Miss Wilder was ill and away from her work yesterday.

Prof. Burnet will be here by the tenth of next month.

Did you notice that Doc. Everett is advertising for ideas?

The chancellor has been somewhat indisposed for a few days.

The cadets were measured for white trousers Wednesday night.

Miss Phebe Gerrard, a former student, is visiting the university.

The new field pieces and 125 rifles will be here in three or four weeks.

The new members of the Delta society are preparing a special program.

Mr. McMullen entertained at whist at the Delta Tau club house last Saturday.

They say the cadets will look like "geese" when they don their new white ducks.

Principal A. W. Norton of the State Normal visited the university last Saturday.

Why was the notice of the first prep. class-meeting placed behind the glass case last week?

Prof. Adams is springing some very funny puns on his class, so members of the class say.

Mr. Platt, who has been out of school the past week on account of weak eyes, has returned.

Captain Weeks has had charge of the recitations in drill regulations for the last two weeks.

In order to illustrate his lectures on sound this week, Prof. Allen has been obliged to "hit the pipe" several times.

Judge Cooley read a long article on the new element in the class in science last Monday.

Teacher in History: "Into what the Romans finally run this democracy?"

Pupil: "Into the ground!"

Miss Woodmansee is now at Cheyenne, Wyo. She expects to be back about June 1st to attend the finals.

The gymnasium exhibition will be on April nineteenth. The work shown will be the representative work of the classes for the year.

A large number of Professor Bessey's botany students were noticed in the audience which listened to the lecture at the Y. M. C. A. hall last Saturday night.

Owing to a little "boisterosity" on the part of some members of the tactic's section which recites Tuesdays, that class will hereafter be held under military discipline.

Miss Mary Jones and Miss Cather have gone to Chicago to hear some fine operas and concerts. They will be gone until Monday.

Prof. Burnet, who is now in Albuquerque, New Mexico, wrote a very effective and interesting article for last Sunday's Journal. He described very vividly the Mexican bull-fight with all its ugliness.

A tragedy similar to that which occurred a short time ago, in which Claude Wilson was the victim, was attempted with Ed. Morrison the other night. We are glad to hear that it was an entire failure.

Many inquiries are coming into the executive office for speakers and especially for speakers for high schools, but the professors are all too busy to accept. It would keep a man busy in the state all the time if he tried to respond.

The Omaha club, at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, passed the following resolution and ordered that it be given the college papers for publication.

Resolved, That the thanks of Omaha club be extended to all those who, by their kind services, aided in making our Washington's Birthday celebration a success.

Lieutenant Pershing has been working hard at the State House this week trying to get a part of the N. N. G. appropriation to be used in the cadet encampment. He has met with but little encouragement so far; General Gage fought it. The General never had any use for the cadet battalion any way.

The University Y. M. C. A. held its annual election and business meeting Saturday evening. The officers elected for the association year, which begins April 1st, were as follows: President, W. T. Elmore; vice-president, D. M. Davis; recording secretary, W. A. Rhodes; corresponding secretary, R. P. Teele; treasurer, T. D. Lunn.

Miss Julia Prescott entertained a number of her university friends at her home, 1945 K street, Monday evening. The gathering was in honor of Miss Frances McKinnon, a former student of the university who is visiting in the city. An evening of pleasure such as only university students can have was enjoyed by all.

INTERSTATE DEBATE

HOW KANSAS IS PROGRESSING

Not Quite Up With Us in Enthusiasm But They Will Make a Strong Fight

A letter from Prof. E. M. Hopkins of the University of Kansas, states in regard to their preparations there for the coming interstate debate, that the students of that institution were making haste slowly. The practical interest seems to have narrowed down to the two literary societies.

Both preliminary debates were held the same evening at the latest date allowed by the rules—the first Friday in March. Three representatives were chosen from each society, and Friday, April 5th, the final local debate will be held and the three men chosen who are to debate against ours. The experience there has been somewhat like ours, though we went a little ahead of them. Eighteen or twenty men registered for the debate, but nearly half of them dropped out. Those who did take part, however, were determined and the six chosen are strong men, and the three selected from these will undoubtedly give our representatives a hard struggle. The practicability of offering a prize to encourage the preliminaries is being discussed there.

Ruskin's Crown of Wild Olives, Queen of the Air, Ethics of the Dust, Mornings in Florence, Sesame and Lilies, Carlyle's Sartor Resartus, Past and Present, Heroes and Hero Worship, French Revolution, Emerson's Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, Representative Men, cloth binding silver stamp, to be had at Herpolsheimer & Co.'s for 23c per vol.

To indicate the support that our base ball team is to receive this year we simply state that there are eighty-five signers to the subscription list. The amount pledged reaches the mark of $84. The header of the list is Mr. Wm. Neal, who has written a bold "$5" after his name. This is as large an amount as pledged by any one. This shows that the athletic spirit is in no way dying out.

A delightful cotillion was given by Miss Nell Lau at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Payne, of Hastings. The leaders were Miss Lau and Mr. Joyce. Those present were Misses Harley, Griggs, Shaw, Williamson, Junge, Broady, Farwell-Holmes, Burkes, Risser, Heaton, Ricketts, Whedon, Winger, and Helena and Anna Lau; Messrs. Haughton, White, Cooley, Pilsbury, Haggard, Clough, Jones, Askin, Parmelee, Johnson, Junge, Cullen, Packard, Duff, Joyce, Becher, and Langworthy.

Jim—"I met Lottie on the street this A.M., and as she recognized me her countenance fell."

Henry—"Why so?"

Jim—"Because Lottie's recognition and countenance got mixed with a banana peeling on the sidewalk."

The poet wandered thro' the fields, He thought the birds would sing to him.

The babbling brooks and trickling rills Were pleasant signs of spring to him; Just then a cold wave came along And didn't do a thing to him.

When music, heavenly maid was young, An innocent, kind girl was she, Who never on the public sprang A "Daisy Bell" or "Sweet Marie."
