W. L. Williams is back and is deep in the mysteries of Senior law.

Mrs. MacLean has been elected president of the Ladies faculty club.

Yes, "We have 'shined' for twenty-five years"—How much a shine?

Harry Frank has returned to college and will try for a place on the team.

Horace Whitmore comes around to smile on old friends once in a while.

Miss Maud Triplett entertained a few of her friends Thursday evening.

Miss Maud Triplett will leave for her new home in Missouri the first of next month.

Chancellor MacLean expects to entertain Rev. Kincaid from Minnesota Sunday.

Judge Reese had a busy time the first of this week getting the law students registered.

Miss Mercy Walker and Mr. Lehmer have been elected members of the English club.

Miss Imogene Clinton is clerking in Fitzgerald's store and carrying her music at the conservatory.

G. W. Farr of Marquette, Neb., who was in the university two years ago, is back taking law this year.

An open session of the Maxwell club will be held in the college of law, Oct. 12, at 8 p. m.

It is understood that Gardner is to play the position of draw-back on the team this year.

J. M. Rogers is taking the law course this year. He will read in the office of W. B. McArthur.

Bert Abry has been formally installed as Prof. Owens' stenographer and has taken up his work.

Hedge is now carrying a cane with which he practices the "drum major act" when no one is looking.

Capt. Guilfoyle took charge of two divisions in geometry this week and will instruct them during the year.

C. G.—"Now Mr. B. you are adjutant of this battalion, you are expected to be the straightest man in the corps of cadets"—then noticing John's disappointed look he added "physically, I mean."

Take a look at our new fall suits.

Mr. Abell, after measuring Lehnhoff and Turner—"Gee whiz, there's no money in making those pants."

During the summer Harry Shedd ran a very successful daily at his home, known as the "Summer Breeze."

Chancellor MacLean leaves this evening for Tecumseh where he will address the teachers' county association.

The hat thief has again commenced his operations. Even the library room is not exempt from his presence.

Committees have been appointed from the sophomore and freshmen classes to make arrangements for a joint social.

Hon. H. H. Shedd came up from Ashland last week to see how his sons, George and Harry were getting along.

Prof. Wolfe has informed his classes that it is not necessary to laugh at his jokes. (Other professors please copy.)

Harvey Heald is playing the snare drum in the Cadet band during Fred Humphrey's season on the foot ball field.

It would be advisable for a certain student to Cram a little on his Greek lesson—since paternal presence unnerves him.

Carl Burnham writes from Moravia, Cal., his regrets that he cannot be in school this year, owing to his father's poor health.

It is surprising to note the number of drug stores advertising "sure death to cockroaches," now that the cold weather has set in.

L. C. Smith will superintend the setting up of about 600 feet of slate blackboard which is to be put in the new library building.

In point of noise (not mentioning quality) the elocution classes rival the cadet band, judging from sounds that issue from room 5.

We suggest that an alleged 'kicker' in a local contemporary be turned around and himself subjected to a vigorous process of like nature.

Resolved—That everyone be duly thankful for the new chairs which have been put in the library. Carried unanimously.

The Glee club is going to take a good early start this year. We have plenty of good singers this year and the Glee club should be a success.

It's too bad the little boys in that class in English get so restless before the close of the hour. They should be disciplined according to their apparent size.

I. P. Gardner has made his appearance again this year. He is improving his spare moments playing foot-ball and getting acquainted with the young ladies.

At a meeting of the Omaha club Monday, it was decided to give a reception to the new students. H. C. Parmelee was appointed a committee on arrangements.

In English 3, as the class is so large, each one has his own seat and the roll call is dispensed with. Prof. McLeod appoints a "corporal" to report the absentees.

The grounds about the new library building are rapidly being placed in a fine condition. When all is finished the building will be a decided improvement to the campus.

The Palladian society intends to celebrate their quarter centennial next October. Preparations have already been begun in the way of much talking and appointing of committees.

Nearly all of the academic classes are larger than they were last year, which shows that the attendance would be larger than last year had the preparatory year not been dropped.

The Ashland students, numbering about thirty, will found an Ashland club for literary and social purposes, and for bringing their home town into closer relationship with the university.

A young lady senior who is taking preparatory chemistry, was heard to make this inquiry of a fellow student of like standing: "Oh, isn't this just dreadful to be put in here with these 'preps'?"

The regular Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting will be held in Palladian Hall Sunday, Oct. 13 at 4 p. m. Mr. D. M. Davis will lead. Subject: "Christian Fellowship." 1 John 1:3, Math. 23:8. Remember the hour is 4 o'clock.

Some designing university boys have an eye on a fourteenth street sign which reads "horse breaking." They expect it to read differently the morning after hallowe'en. A brush and paint will be the means of substituting a "u" for the "r."

Members of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity were surprised last week when one of their number, H. S. Shedd, presented them with a catchy little two step, dedicated to the fraternity. It is yet in manuscript form but it is understood that it will be published.

Julian B. Field writes from New Orleans that he is employed with the Louisiana Electric Light company. He has filled various positions with this company during the summer and at present discharges the duties of time keeper, pay master and clerk.

At the faculty meeting Monday evening the committees were each re-organized and the number doubled on each one. This makes the organization much closer, which seems especially pleasing to the Chancellor.

Anyone who thinks he cannot afford to take The Nebraskan this year, by securing four names for us will have the paper sent him during the year, free of charge. This can be done easily with a little work among the alumni and former students.

H. H.: "Say, it's too bad we can't have a football game before they stow those old library chairs away some where. Wouldn't they pile up high though, and make an elegant blaze?" And a sad expression settled over his face as he walked away.

The Pershing Rifles met for their first drill last night. Almost five sets of fours turned out, and under their new captain, Joe Beardsley, they were put through a snappy drill. They made a very good showing and give promise of eclipsing last year's record.

The opening of the college year has brought back to Lincoln many readers of books who were missed during the summer months. Repeated calls may be daily heard for "Beneath the Bonnie Brier Bush," "The Manxman," "The Prisoner ofenda," Sonia Kovalevsky," and other new books. These as well as stationery, college supplies, fountain pens, etc., may be had at greatly reduced prices at Herpolsheimer & Co.'s book department.
