

LOCALS.

G. E. Hancock took a trip to Chicago this week.

Miss Mabel Tuttle is visiting her sister at Tarkio, Mo.

Miss Anna Lytle spent Sunday at her home in Greenwood.

William Axling filled the Free Baptist pulpit last Sunday.

Mrs. Manning's dramatic class is working on a new play.

The Union girls will give their annual program Friday evening.

Miss Martha Burks, '95, visited friends in the university this week.

A. C. Pancost, who is teaching at Ashland, will be in school next year.

Work on the tennis court on the west side of the campus will soon be begun.

George Whaley, '92, was one of the visitors of the university charter week.

Professor Richards has started a course of lectures on machine modeling.

The special gymnasium class is progressing well under the direction of Dr. Clark.

A large delegation will go to Creste the 29th of March to attend the oratorical contest.

A crowd of university people are planning to go to Kansas City to hear Paderowski.

Burton Cosgrove and Bertrand Langworthy spent Sunday at the latter's home in Seward.

Owing to an accident, our local column is not full this week. It was set up once, but—!

The question of a spring encampment is already being agitated in the military department.

About sixteen Palladian boys attended Morrison's "Faust" at the Funke Wednesday evening.

L. C. Smith and Ray Teete took a Sunday ramble down to Milford, a distance of twenty miles.

The freshman class will have a meeting Friday at 1 o'clock in room 16 for the election of officers.

The next lecture before the Political Economy club will be by N. S. Harwood of the First National bank.

There is some talk among the boys of organizing a company and working on a musical extravaganza.

There will be a debate between the law school and the Union boys' debating club on Saturday evening.

Prof. W. G. Taylor is giving an excellent course in seminar work on the historical school of economics.

Miss Martha Chappell of Exeter was home last Sunday. One of our seniors wore a smiling countenance.

V. P. Sheldon has returned from his home in Nehawka where he was called by the death of his grandmother.

Kappa Kappa Yamma society will give a German at the residence of Miss Nell Lau Friday evening, March 6.

Professors Leese, Burnett, Adams and Fred Joers took a ride to the wolf hunt Saturday, covering about fifty miles.

The English club met with Miss Hopper Saturday night. Miss Jones took charge of the library in Miss Hopper's absence.

Professor Barbour gave a very interesting talk to his class in general geology on the earth and moon Tuesday morning.

W. H. Oury, manager of the football team, has been corresponding with Chicago parties looking to a game there next fall.

The P. B. C. C. are planning to go to the next contest between the U. B. C. C. and Doane. They will go on hayracks across the country.

Lucy C. Green lost a pair of gold eye glasses on the campus about noon Monday. The finder is requested to leave them at the chancellor's office.

The Palladian "new members" program last Friday evening proved successful in every way. The hall was crowded and many were turned away.

The graduating class of Ashland high school has unanimously chosen Chancellor MacLean to deliver their commencement address next June. Chancellor MacLean has accepted their request. This action of the class is thoroughly in harmony with the university spirit at the Ashland high school.

It is said that Fred Barnes is among the recent holdups. He was politely relieved of a watch and some small change that he always carries with him.

Dr. R. A. Mitchell continued his lecture on dislocations before the preparatory medical students in room 17, Nebraska hall, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Chancellor MacLean received greetings and congratulations from the U. of N. club organized charter day in Washington, D. C., and composed of U. of N. alumni.

Professor Swezey will give a lecture at Gibbon on "Weather Predictions" Thursday evening, and Friday evening he will lecture on "The Struggle for Existence" at Exeter.

Saturday morning all students who wished to join the baseball team came to the armory, but no selections were made, as they thought it too early to pick out good players.

A free lecture of interest to students will be given at St. Mark's Lutheran church Friday night, by Mrs. Hoffman of Missouri. Subject, "Europe or the United States, Which?"

The committee on athletics is corresponding with all colleges in the state to have a field day here in May. The committee is also endeavoring to secure a coach from Harvard or Yale.

Eight glee club boys went out on a serenading tour Friday night. They sang at nearly twenty houses and report four "feeds." Serenading is getting to be very popular in the university.

J. W. Crabtree read a paper entitled "Was Lincoln a Christian?" before the Lancaster county teachers' association last Saturday. Those present speak very highly of Mr. Crabtree's production.

The sophomore class held a meeting Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of deciding about the annual. Little was done and the meeting was adjourned till Friday, when the board of editors will be elected.

There will be a debate at the Union hall Saturday evening between the Maxwell club and the Union boys' debating club. A warm discussion is expected, for both factions seem determined to win.

Some of the young men who sit in the gallery during chapel exercises have formed the habit of making a rush for the door while the hymn is being sung. Wednesday morning the chancellor put a damper on this practice.

The voting lists for the Lodge & Davis lodge were sent in on Tuesday of this week. The university will not make a very bad showing, although we did start very late in the day as compared with the eastern schools.

Cotner university withdrew from the oratorical association a few days ago. Gates college will not have a representative this year, so Doane and the university of Nebraska will be all the institutions represented in the state contest.

The third annual report of the state board of agriculture will contain all the rainfall data that has ever been taken in the state. This work is now being collected by Professor Swezey and will be sent to the press in a few days.

Orders have been published making the following promotions in the battalion: To be sergeants, cadet privates, S. W. Pinkerton and J. N. Shreve; to be corporals, cadet privates, C. W. Weeks, L. J. Belknap, A. A. Bischoff, C. B. Norton and W. S. Heitzman.

The Palladian boys' debating club, which has not had a meeting for several weeks on account of conflicting events, will meet again Saturday evening to discuss the question whether the United States should fortify its coasts more effectually. Everybody invited.

Professor Burnett addressed the Phi Kappa Psi boys Sunday afternoon on James Whitcomb Riley, one of the well known members of the fraternity. The Hoosier poet is an intimate friend of Professor Burnett, and the talk was therefore largely of a reminiscent character.

Company D had the most rigid inspection of the year Monday evening. It lasted almost the entire hour. Captain Guilfoyle was pleased as only one man was reported. A general order was issued Monday evening prohibiting the criticisms which different companies exchange.

W. Reed Dunroy, the Nebraska poet, has been appointed organizer for the Knights and Ladies of Security, a new and flourishing fraternal organization, and left for Seward Wednesday evening in the interests of the organization. We shall wish him greatly from school and wish him all success.

Bob Manley didn't get enough fun out of "The Pirates," so brought the "colts" which they allowed him to use up to the university Friday to play with. Such dangerous weapons should not be put in the hands of small boys and it is just a wonder that he or some one else didn't do a great deal of damage.

BEACH & BOWERS.

Remember the big minstrel show of Beach & Bowers at the Funke opera house Friday and Saturday evening, and a grand ladies' and children's matinee on Saturday afternoon. The management guarantees this to be a good clean performance. Read what the Racine paper says of them: "The opera house was filled last evening with a delighted audience to witness the famous Beach & Bowers' minstrels, and it was with considerable pride that the large audience applauded the fine features of the program. It was fresh, spicy and bright. The entertainment consisted of a general melange of comic and pathetic songs, beautiful and striking instrumental music, comedy and opera. The funny afterpiece was well given. The company can always count on a warm reception when they visit this city."—Racine, (Wis.) Journal.

Prices only 30 cents for the entire lower floor and first two rows in the balcony, and 20 cents for last two rows. Admission to gallery, adults, 20 cents; children, 10 cents. Seats now on sale at Dunn's.

Old Love Remembered.

The first red leaves of autumn
Seem to say that I must go
From the fields, where I have sought them,
From the flower land to the snow.

The first cold kiss I gather,
From your lips of carmine hue,
Seems to say that you would rather
I would not pretend to you.

The first white snow-flake falling
On the humble daisy's bed
Seems to say that love is calling
From the living to the dead.

Love is an intermittent fever—followed by a chill.

He Did His Best.

She seated herself in the rear end of the car, among the tobacco consumers although there was plenty of room forward.

Every time the man next to her puffed his cigar she looked unhappy.

At last she turned sharply to the conductor and said:
"Smoking is very disagreeable to me."
"Is it?" he rejoined, sympathetically
"It certainly is."
After a profound silence she resumed
"Well, aren't you going to do something or say something about it?"
"Why—er—certainly."
"I wish you wouldn't lose any time."
"If I were in your place, and smoking was disagreeable to me, why—er—"
"Well, sir."
"Why, I wouldn't smoke."
He meant it kindly, but she got off the car and reported him to the company just the same.—Washington Star.
