You should have seen the weather bureau after Professor Swezey and Mr. Loveland recorded Tuesday's weather.

Beginning with April 6 there will be only one lecture and one laboratory period each week in preparatory chemistry.

Misses Imogene Clinton and Gertrude Wright have been looking after Mr. John Randolph's classes during his absence.

Sidney Corbey returned to the university Tuesday. He says that St. Joe is rather far away when such a vacation is given.

The Maxwell club has challenged the P. B. D. C. to joint debate and the challenge is accepted. Dates are to be arranged.

Agnes Sewell, who has been visiting in Columbus, O., will return home Saturday and take up her work again Monday morning.

Professor Barbour delivered an address on "How the Worlds Were Made," at the First Congregational church last Sunday night.

Professor and Mrs. Kimball gave a swimming party to the young ladies of the conservatory, at the large sulpho saline plunge, Monday evening.

Rev. Rowlands of the First Baptist church and Rev. Charles Savage of Omaha led the chapel exercises Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

Bert Wilson and Julius Sedgwick will represent the Nebraska Alpha chapter of Phi Kappa Psi in the convention of that fraternity at Cleveland, O.

Professor Wilson is doing some clean-cut work with his Virgil classes. They are beginning to find the poetry and power—the real meaning of the Aeneid.

Eight or ten experimental psychologists have escaped from Professor Wolfe's laboratories and are wandering about seeking whom they may victimize.

L. P. Pillsbury is preparing an article for the American university magazine on the "College customs and undergraduate life at the university of Nebraska."

A young lady who is seemingly not specializing in English literature, recently stepped up to the counter at the Co-Op and called for a copy of Milton's Paradise Alley.

Jack Best is laid up with an ulcer of the eye. It is quite serious and its ultimate recovery is doubted. His duties about the armory are being attended to by John Uhle.

A whist club of sixteen members has been organized for weekly meetings. Ned Abbott is the prime mover. The first meeting was held this week with Mr. Newbranch.

Several familiar faces were met about the halls during vacation. Among them were Helen Dahn, Harry Barber, George Town, Harvey Heald, Frank Brown, Martha Chappel.

Vernon Craig and Clarence Gibbs started for Craig last week on their wheels in order to spend their vacation at home, but were forced to turn around and come back on account of the mud.

Negotiations for a coach for the football team are being quietly pursued by the athletic board. Some of Pennsylvania's men are being looked upon with favor. Nothing definite has been done yet.

Willis Sawyer, '94, has been employed by an English syndicate to oversee the establishment of some new patent electrical devices in that country. He sailed from New York Wednesday.

Adam McMullen represented Delta Tau Delta at the conference of the western division held at Evanston March 26 and 27. Saturday the Chicago alumnae tendered the delegates a banquet.

There will be an entertainment in the chapel Saturday evening under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Manning will have charge of the program. Miss Worley will sing. Admission 15 cents.

The university of Nebraska received 9,200 votes in the lathie contest. This is not such a bad showing when it is taken into consideration that we only had two or three weeks to work up the matter.

The weather department will have a long-distance telephone put in their room in Nebraska hall and hereafter will receive their reports from Omaha this way instead of by telegraph as formerly.

The Beta Theta Pi boys showed their appreciation of the help the young ladies gave them on the occasion of their annual reunion, by daintily written notes of thanks, which were delivered at their homes.

Professor Bates and wife left last Thursday for Cincinnati. Quite a delegation of students bade him farewell at the train. Miss Cathrine Melick will take charge of part of his classes for the rest of the semester. Professor Adams taking the others.

At 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, when it was even uncomfortably warm, people wondered why the cold wave signal was hoisted. They found out a little later. Culver claims that his reputation is saved for a little while yet.

Officers—President, P. J. Maguire; vice-president, Miss Eva Rolofson; recording secretary, Miss Amy Shively; corresponding secretary, Miss Jennie Gulle; treasurer, G. F. Warren; critic, C. M. Barr; sergeant-at-arms, W. H. Rhodes.

L. H. Robbins, now of Princeton, had a two column article in the Pacemaker. It was a description of a mid-winter bicycle trip to the coast. In a very interesting way he told of the big steam ship which had been stranded off the New Jersey coast.

The Pershing Rifles' hop is going to be a booster. All arrangements are made for it, and if it isn't about the greatest thing in the social line that the university has seen for a long while it will not be the fault of the committee.

Tickets are nearly all sold. If you want to get one you'd better make haste.

Fan for the Family.
He—This shoe doesn't fit. Try a bigger one. She (severely)—No, sir; bring me the same size a little larger.

"Well, how do you like your new place?" "I don't like it. If I don't do things right they'll get another boy, and if I do things right they'll keep me doin' 'em."

Society Man—My baby had a very narrow escape this morning. Friend—Indeed! How so? Society Man—The nurse girl thoughtlessly left it alone in the care of its mother.

A Man of Moods—Janitor Mike—Why, O' niver seen sich a moody man as yerself. Tenant—How so, Mike? Janitor Mike—Larst winter yez wor kickin' becase there wor ice on the sidewalk, and now yez kicks becase there ain't none.

He Had Them Before.—Applicant for Situation—I have a recommendation from my clergyman, sir. Employer—That's all very well so far as it goes. As I don't want you on Sundays, however, I should like a recommendation from somebody who knows you on weekdays.

The family tutor was invited to a grand dinner party by his employers, and surveyed with intense satisfaction the half dozen wine glasses arranged in front of his plate. The footman came round with the wine. The young man presented the smallest of the glasses.

"It is vin ordinaire," observed the waiter. "Ah! precisely," replied our ascetic philosopher; "I'll reserve the larger glasses for the finer sorts."

At a certain place of public entertainment a student was bragging of his manifold accomplishments, until at length one of the company lost patience and said, in a gruff tone: "Now, we've heard enough about what you can do. Come, tell us what there is you can't do and I'll undertake to do it myself."

"Waal," replied the student, with a yawn. "I can't pay my account here; so glad to find you're the man to do it." And the critic paid, amid roars of laughter from the audience.

At an entertainment given to a boys' club in Boston, under the supervision of some charitable ladies who managed the affair, a reader was to recite Scott's poem of "Lochinvar." Fancy his surprise at finding the managers, who were averse to having anything in praise of wine read to their pupils, making an alteration of the lines.

"And now am I come, with this lost love of mine,
To lead but one measure, drink one cup of wine,"

to the following:
"And now am I come, with this beautiful maid,
To lead but one measure, drink one lemonade."

The Bicycle Era.
Father (a few years hence)—Why do you take your bicycle when you are going such a short distance? Why don't you walk?
Daughter (modestly)—Walk? Mercy, no! I don't want to be so conspicuous.

A Wave of Reform.
Little Johnny—I won't be kept after school for whispering to Tommy Dodd any more.
Mother—I am glad of that.
"Yes'm Tommy sat behind me and I had to turn my head to whisper to him, and the teacher always saw me."
"You don't do it any more, I hope."
"None. I've got a seat behind Tommy, and now he'll have to turn his head."
