The fraternity men of the university, will find that Westerfield does the right kind of tonsorial work at his shop, 107 North Thirteenth street.

A. D. Harmon '96 is filling a pulpit at David City Nebr. He says that his work is pleasant, and that he has plenty of opportunities to do good work.

The Delians and the U. B. D. C. have adjourned to attend the Palladian celebration, as they feel it is as much a university as a Palladian affair.

The Nebraskan acknowledges the favor of Mr. L. C. Smith for the excellent article on the additional books in the library, which appears in the issue.

The class in European history 1, numbers now about 120 students, and all seem very interested in the work under the supervision of Professor Fling.

After chapel last Friday morning, Professors Kimball and Hodgman gave a short talk in which they advised students to register for choral work.

The Y. M. C. A. will have no meetings next Saturday afternoon on account of the Christian Endeavor convention which will be in session in the city at that time.

The examination for entrance to the glee club will be held Saturday. Everyone who thinks he has a possible show is invited to make his appearance and try for a place.

E. M. Pollard '93, is a candidate for the Nebraska state legislature from Cass county. His prospects are unqualifiedly in favor of his election by an overwhelming majority.

You can buy lead pencils, for drawing and ordinary use; note books etc, at about half the price you pay elsewhere, by patronizing the book department of Herpolshelmer and Co.

E. M. Short formerly of the class of '97, has been elected principal of the schools of Nelson Nebr. He is rapidly promoting the work there and will be a credit to the university.

The Y. M. C. A. mission study class will be formed Saturday at 11 o'clock a. m. The biographies of the four great missionaries, Judson, Duff, McKay and McKenzie, will form the course of study this year. Those who have the time and inclination to take up this work will be welcomed into the class.

The Maxwell club reorganized last Saturday night. G. H. Risser was elected president, B. W. Wilson, vice-president, J. H. Steuteville secretary and W. H. Miller sergeant-at-arms.

Miss Alva Dempster formerly of '96, and Miss Myrtle Wheeler '96, are progressing finely in their work as principal and assistant principal respectively of the Dundee Ill. high school.

J. W. Chabtree, who was recently elected principal of the Beatrice high school reports work progressing finely although he will be obliged to cease his labors at the university for the time being.

The cadets will be instructed in the new manual of arms Monday October 19. This is rather earlier than was expected, but to the new cadets it will be a relief from the tiresome setting up exercises.

At a meeting of the "Sound Money" club Thursday, a challenge from the Bryan club was accepted, the result of which will be two debates in the near future. A McKinley glee club was organized.

The Union Boys will discuss the question: Resolved that a university professor should not participate actively in national politics. A lively time is assured as the discussion is based on the sources.

The October number of the Clack book with its dainty paper cover of blue and white is out. In its table of contents two Nebraska names are to be found; they are those of Ella W. Peattie and William Reed Dumroy.

H. W. Quantance '96 reports that his work as professor in charge of the commercial department of the Mendota college, Ill. is furnishing him with plenty to do and work that is pleasant as well as profitable.

The Co-Op, has secured some very neat university letter head paper this year with envelopes to match. The lettering is done with a dye, and shows up well. A large stock was laid in so as to supply all demands.

The decennial anniversary of the Union Boys debating club will be held in the chapel on October 30. Roscoe Pound and Chancellor MacLean will deliver the anniversary addresses, after which a general reception will be held.

The many friends of Miss Emma Boose will be glad to know that her work as principal of the Hay Springs schools has met with unusual success. Those who know Miss Boose appreciate something of the value of her work in the schools.

Professor Fling has accepted an urgent invitation to address the semi-annual meeting of the teachers' association of Saunders county at Ashland October 23. Prof. G. W. Luckey will attend the same meeting in the interests of child study.

The following named Grand Island teachers are taking in absentia work in Roman history at the university: Misses Abbott, Dunn, Irvine, Clendenin and Hurley. These ladies completed the course in Greek history in the summer school last year.

Book department of Herpolshelmer and Co.

The book thief is again around. Sayer left his "Martin's Human Body" in a box in the hall for a few minutes Thursday evening and when he returned it was gone. He is still whistling for it. Anyone finding it straying around would greatly oblige Sayer by returning it. Some thief also got away with Jesse Cleland's geology which was taken from one of the library shelves Monday night.

FOR THE COLLEGE SETTLEMENT.

Mass Meeting Held in Chapel Tuesday To Encourage Work for it.

The second of a series of mass meetings was held in the chapel Tuesday morning immediately after the exercises. It was called by members of the faculty who desire an increased interest in the college settlement, which was organized last year. Professor Hodgman reviewed the work accomplished, and set forth the outline of the policy hoped to be pursued this year. Four members of the student body were elected to act in conjunction with the faculty, and to push the movement to its furthest extent. Chancellor MacLean appealed to the students to sustain this noble work, and gave an interesting talk on the work of Arthur Townly, with whom this movement originated.

The four students elected are: Miss May Whiting, Steve Corey, Charles Kuhlman and Jos. Boomer.
