Prof. Bruner has received final word from the department at Washington, relative to his visit to South America. He will leave Lincoln a week from tomorrow, Saturday April 24.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon will be led by W. H. Rhodes. The subject for discussion will be "Spiritual Progress." Every young man in the university is invited to attend this meeting.

The order for senior invitations has been sent to a Philadelphia house. All seniors who have not placed their order should do so before tomorrow with Chairman Warren, as after that date it will be too late.

The people of Ashland want the cadet encampment this year and will make a big effort to get it. The short distance from Lincoln, the lay of the country and excellent facilities for an encampment make the place a most desirable one.

The junior class held a well attended meeting in room 3 last Tuesday at 1:15. The matter of class insignia was considered. The boys decided they wanted to carry canes and wear golf caps next year. The girls have not yet decided upon what they want.

French, German and Latin dictionaries will be sold to students of the university for \$1.12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents each. These are the regular \$1.50 editions. Gold Iridium pointed fountain pens are still selling at 60 cents each. Book Department, Herpolzheimer and Company.

J. P. Sedgwick '96, has just been elected manager of the Rush Medical football team for next year. He wants to bring the team west and is arranging a game here with Nebraska state. Mr. Sedgwick is also on the staff of the Corpseuse, the Rush college paper.

Professor Wolfe worked hard to prevent house roll No. 38, providing for minor school graduates to secure teachers' certificates, from being signed by the governor. But even Baker's editorial had no effect, and the bill will now become a law, as the governor signed it Wednesday.

After an interesting program Friday night, the Palladian boys escorted the girls to Sutton and Hollowbushes, where light refreshments, consisting of strawberries and ice cream were served. Mr. S. W. Pinkerton was toast master. Mr. Roper responded in a happy impromptu speech and at an unmentionable hour, they adjourned.

Delta Tau Delta gave an informal dancing party at their hall last Friday evening.

Fred F. Teal who graduated this year from a Chicago medical college visited Omaha friends last Friday, and was the guest of Delta Tau Delta. The director of the minstrel show roped him in to stay over and play accompaniments for the singers. He kindly consented, and made as good a-looking coon as any of the rest of the boys.

The debating association met Tuesday afternoon to arrange for the Kansas debate. Some little discussion arose as to the position in which the debaters should debate. The association gave the men three days to come to time and agree as to their order of speaking. It has been learned since that the three debaters have agreed on position, and no time will be lost in choosing the question and getting to work.

The W. and H. debating club an organization which existed some time ago in the Lincoln high school has been reorganized by the students in the university, who were formerly members. Debates are held every two weeks on Friday evenings. The officers of the club are: H. Reagan president; A. Hoagland, vice-president, L. Ryan, secretary, G. Bartlett, treasurer; W. Melford corresponding secretary.

The university thief is again abroad in the land and this time he made his appearance last Friday morning in the gymnasium locker room. He did not take overcoats, as usual, for they are out of season, but he went through the lockers of the eight o'clock gymnasium class and enriched himself to the extent of three watches and about $15.00 in money. The very few who were careful enough to keep their lockers locked, were about the only ones who escaped loss.

A suggestion has been made to the baseball management, which will no doubt be accepted. There has been some doubt as to how the "honor system" relative to baseball spectators will work. It has been suggested that badges be printed, and every person who pays a quarter will have a distinguishing mark. In his way, the man who wants to beat the baseball team, will feel mighty cheap, standing around without a ribbon, and his life will be made a burden to him by the polite ushers who will ask him, "Wouldn't he like to have a ribbon?" Such badges will also make neat souvenirs.

By a very private wedding, the lives of J. Amos Barrett, secretary of the state historical society, and Mrs. Sadie Rogers of Salt Lake City, Utah, were united yesterday at noon. The ceremony was performed at the home of Dr. H. J. Winnett by Rev. A. F. Newell of Vine street Congregational church. Only one friend of the groom was present beside Dr. Winnett and wife. An appetizing luncheon followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will reside at 1011 Q street.

Mr. Barrett is a graduate of the state university in 1888 and has since been connected with educational and historical work in the Lincoln high school, state university and state historical society. He is the author of several pamphlets and historical publications. His bride formerly lived at Lodge Pole, Neb., and afterwards taught school at Sidney, Neb., and Salt Lake City, Utah. For the past few years she has represented an insurance company at the latter place.

If you have tried him once you found that Westerfield did the right kind of tonsorial work. He has been the students' barber for seventeen years, 117 North Thirteenth street.

BAKER GETS A MEDAL.

The university made a good showing in the recent intercollegiate competition. The committee appointed by the president general of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution to whom was referred the various essays of the colleges throughout the country, for competition for the $100 gold medal, have, after several weeks of deliberation, selected the essay of Mr. R. S. Baker as entitled to first honors and the gold medal. The first place was won last year by a Princeton man, and it is no slight honor for one of our genial seniors to carry off the laurel this year, among such worthy competitors.

Mr. Baker won the silver medal after a closely contested local competition, and the department of American history forwarded his production to the national committee. The subject of the various essays submitted was, "The Principles Fought for in the American Revolution." Mr. Baker is to be congratulated upon his well earned honors, also the head of the department of American history.

WESLEYAN GAME.

The baseball team went out to Wesleyan last Saturday afternoon and defeated the Methodist team by a score of 26 to 10. This was the first game the boys had played but they had no difficulty in disposing of their opponents. It was more of a practice game than any thing else, and the result was perfectly satisfactory as regards the playing of our team. Gordon Cowgill, Garrett and Melford each took a turn at pitching. Gordon went in the box for four innings until he had the game clinched. Cowgill then pitched two innings, and gave way to Garrett in the seventh. He gave way to Melford in the eighth, who pitched the remaining two innings. The game was devoid of brilliant features, although a neat double play was made in the sixth inning by Creigh Kindler and Wells. Another double play was made in the last inning by Cowgill and Benedict. The game was a long one and in order to shorten it as much as possible, Nebraska did not take her turn at the bat in the first half of the last inning, but allowed Wesleyan to remain at bat for two successive innings. Wells umpired a fair game and there was very little kicking on his decisions. Score by innings.

The men played the following positions: Nebraska Position Wesleyan Benedict 2. b. G. Fitchie Wells 3. b. Oleson Kindler 1. b. Kingsberry Creigh 2. s. Mumma Moore c. Brown Packard c. f. GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

The glee club made a trip down to Seward last Friday morning and gave a concert there in the evening. The young ladies of the town tendered a reception to the members of the club in the afternoon at the home of Miss Norval, which was prettily decorated in scarlet and cream. It was one of the most delightful informal receptions which the boys have experienced. The club was greeted by a crowded house in the evening and the concert was an immense success. At the conclusion of the concert, a dance was held in the Knights' of Pythias hall. Altogether the boys had a most enjoyable time and the trip was both a social and a financial success. A great deal of credit is due to Burt Langworthy who was highly instrumental in working up the concert and in general managing the Seward end of the affair.

Fountain pens, from 60 cents each, to $2.50, all warranted at book department of Herpolzheimer & Company.
