DEBATE WITH DOANE.

The P. B. D. C. and the Philomathian society of Doane debated last Saturday evening the question: Resolved, "That the establishment of the postal bank system would be detrimental to the interests of the country." Messrs. Brown, Taylor and Huttic upheld the question for Doane. Their main points were the lack of means for investing the funds and the fact that there are now ample private banking facilities.

The speakers for the P. B. D. C. were Messrs. A. E. Henry, L. W. Pearson and R. L. Waterman. The points for which they contended were that private savings banks were at present inadequate and unreliable and that the security afforded by postal saving banks would be unquestionable and bring many beneficial results. The investment of funds in government bonds guaranteed by the government, and the fact that the system is demanded by public opinion were also urged.

Mr. Brown opened the debate with an eleven minute speech and closed with a six minute one.

The other speakers had fifteen minutes each. Mr. Vance of Doane presided. Mr. Sloan was time keeper for P. B. D. C. After the debate all adjourned to the armory to the reception of the Ladies' Faculty club.

ATHLETICS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

The Athletic and the University teams again crossed swords in indoor baseball last Wednesday evening, and the Athletic men came out ahead. The baseball men, however, were handicapped by having only seven players present. The game was exciting at the start, as neither side was able to score for several innings, and up to the fifth inning the game was a tie, 3 to 3. Then the University team went to pieces and the Athletic men jumped in and cinched the game. The score was 9 to 5 at the end of the game.

LECTURE ON IBSEN.

Dr. Peterson gave the first chapel lecture of the semester last Friday morning, taking as his subject, Henrik Ibsen, the great Norwegian dramatist. The speaker was very competent to handle the subject, not only because of his thorough knowledge of Ibsen's works, but also because of a personal acquaintance with the man behind the works. Both the lower floor and gallery were filled with students, a number being compelled to stand.

Most of the lecture was devoted to a consideration of Ibsen's works and the conditions under which they were written. A few of the salient details of the dramatist's life were given.

Ibsen, when he began to write, was laughed at, and scorned by the papers, but now he has a recognized place among the world's greatest writers. His writings appeared simultaneously in this country and in the old world.

Ibsen is not only a discoverer of truth, but of life. He is a foe of sham and tradition. He has shown us that some of those things we have always thought we have believed, we do not believe at all. He is essentially a realist—idealism does not appeal to him. He believes in truth, absolute truth.
