ring, "There's your chance," said the Greek behind him as they shoved him in, and the door sprung locked behind him. There was nothing for it but to win that ten. The boy was used to horses down on the farm and soon had his long legs wrapped securely around the little animal's body and with all his trickery the beast could not loose him. And the crowd laughed itself tired and gaped the cage master and the cage master grew angry and kicked our student friend out of the arena with instructions to look further for his ten.

Finally in the top floor of the "Chamber of Horrors" of the Moorish Palace, in a gruesome rocky pass, with imps leering at him from every side, surrounded by his college mates in flowing red robes, Silver took the vow that made him a Greek for life, secret vows long held in abhorrence by the barbarians. Swore to spend his money like a king, to pay lavish attention to the girls, to spend nine-tenths of his time every fall rushing freshmen (no matter about his studies), to enter into all kinds of political combinations—to do all this with the welfare of the chapter at heart. And then they all adjourned to Markel's and had a feed and talked it over. Silver was the hero of the board and they drank his health and each one gave him the true glad hand—each one proud to shake hands with the game little freshman who had just experienced the meanest and most unique initiation in the history of all Greek Letterdom. AT THE OLIVER.

The musical loving students of the university will be pleased to learn that Louise Preshaney and her great concert company comes to the Oliver theater next Monday evening, October 24 for one night only.

Miss Preshaney is the possessor of a soprano voice of unusual quality and of great power and sweetness, and has had the benefit of a thorough musical training. Another great advantage she possesses over the majority of singers is her perfect enunciation; every word she sings can be plainly understood.

Mr. M. Guillaume Savvlet, the pianist, was for years the sole pianist to the late King of Holland. He was also professor at the Imperial Conservatory in Tokio, Japan. His concert repertoire is very extensive, comprising both the classical and the romantic schools.

Miss Agnes Pringle, violinist, a pupil of Bernhard Listeman and of Jacobson, has shown great musical talent since childhood and early turned her attention to the violin.

Miss Jessie Waters has mezzo soprano voice of exceeding depth and range, and wonderful sweetness.

Lester Bartlett Jones is a young singer with a future, possessing one of the rarest endowments of Americans, namely, a full, resonant tenor voice. Mr. George Dehills, baritone: his voice and style is admirably suited to operatic music and in this field he may be said to have few equals and no superiors. Mr. Dehills is well known in this city.

The first part of the program consists of concert numbers and the second part the company will produce one act of "Mazetta" in costume.

Prices, $1.00, 75 cents, 50 cents and 25 cents. Seats on sale Friday morning at 10 o'clock sharp. On account of the great demand for seats you had better secure your seats early.

Word has been received here of the death of H. L. Fickner which occurred recently at Manila. He was born June 30, 1872, and entered the university in '98 as a biological student. Beside making a good record as a student, he carried on work on the Freie Presse. When the call was made for volunteers he enlisted in company F, of the First regiment. No particulars have been learned as yet.

Visit the Metropolitan Barber shop. You get first class work at low prices. Hair cut, 15c; shampoo, 15c; shaves free with tickets. 1218 O street. B. J. Robinson, Proprietor.

The great factor in economizing time is the pen, the fountain pen. Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen will save you both time and money. Every businessman should have one. This pen is not like the average fountain pen, it is always ready and is more easily managed than any other and never fails to come to the "scratch." In short, it is the best pen in the world.—The Wall Street Reporter, December 19, 1897.

If you want a fountain pen the equal to any $1 pen on the market, the "Uncle Sam" pen will fill the bill. The price is 80c. The "Herpolsheimer" pen at 60c needs no further mention. History Paper, History covers, Theme Paper, Text Books, and all university supplies at lowest prices. Book and Stationery department, Herpolsheimer & Co.

The Dress Goods

Selling at this store speaks volumes for our assortments, it is convincing evidence that the kind of goods the people want are here, and that the prices named on these goods meet with their entire approval. The present season has brought forth many entirely new weaves and color combinations as well as many vast improvements in the staple lines. Our assortments comprise every new and fashionable novelty, every conceivable color, all the styles, weaves and shades and many exclusive lines shown nowhere else. Having carried no goods from the spring selling, we were compelled to purchase liberally for the present season, hence these vast assortments.

Shoe—Supremacy

"Manish Shoes for Gentlewomen" are the order of the day. They are a woman's shoe made on a man's last, and finished in every way like a man's shoe. For comfort, style and wear they cannot be equalled. We show this shoe in all the new styles, and assure you that our prices are from 50c to $1.50 lower than those of exclusive houses. We carry Ladies' Boys' and Childrens' shoes only, and make a specialty of Ladies' Fine Goods, we are therefore in a position to show the most complete assortment of fashionable women's shoes in Lincoln.
