NEBRASKA ADDS TO HER VICTORIES

The Colorado State University and Denver Both Defeated By the Western Champions.

DETAILS OF THE TWO GAMES LAST WEEK

Boulder, Col., Nov. 17.—One of the hardest fought games ever seen on a Boulder gridiron was played between the eleven of the State University of Colorado and the Nebraskans today. The score was 23 to 10 in favor of the latter. The game was a good natured contest from beginning to end free from slugging and fights. The University of Colorado played its strongest game this year and proudly boasts of the largest score that has been made on Nebraska by any team this season. A rather strong, cold wind from the west did not prevent the Boulder enthusiasts from attending in force and from 2 o'clock, when the business houses of the city closed their doors, to 2:45, when time was called, there was one continuous stream of humanity from the city to Gamble field.

The visitors practically outclassed the home team in weight. The men in the line averaging over 20 pounds more to the man. During over half the game, however, the weight did not seem to avail and Boulder went through the line at will. A strong wind at their backs and a slight slope in the field of the Coloradoans a slight advantage in the first half, an advantage which added to their superior weight gave the visitors the game in the second half.

THE LINE UP.

Boulder won the toss and took the west goal with the wind at their backs and gave the Nebraskans the kick off. Sweaters were pulled at 2:45 and the teams lined up as follows:

COLORADO.	NEBRASKA.
Chase, r. e.	e. Liebman
O. Garwood, r. t.	t. Pillsbury
Arnett, r. g.	g. Hansen
Wolcott, c.	c. Melford
H. Garwood, l. g.	g. Turner
Hogarty, l. t.	t. Kingsbury
Rothwell, l. e.	e. Brew
Joe Rogers, q.	q. Drain
McMurray, r. h.	h. Folmer
John Rogers, l. h.	h. Benedict
Merton, f. b.	f. b. Erwin

The following acted as officials: Umpire, M. T. Swartz; referee, H. P. Gamble; linesmen, Messrs. Yost and Lamson; time keeper, George Hay. Umpire and referee exchanged offices in the second half.

Erwin kicked to Chase who caught the pigskin on Boulder's 25-yard line and ran back five yards. Rogers went five yards through tackle and the Boulder rooters howled with delight. The ball was fumbled in the next play and a Nebraska man fell on it, with a loss of two yards to Boulder. Nebraska lost one yard on an end play, thanks to Rothwell, then made one yard through the line. They next tried a quarter back kick but Chase was too quick for them and got the ball. McMurray went one yard around right end and John Rogers hit left tackle for four yards. In the next play the ball was dropped. Chase scooped it up but dropped it when tackled. Arnett fell on the spardoid. The ball was passed back for a punt but Kingsbury broke through the line and blocked the kick causing Boulder to lose the ball and fifteen yards. Benedict went through left tackle for 18 yards. One more buck and Benedict carried the ball over for the first touchdown. Melford kicked goal. Score, Nebraska 6, Colorado 0.

On the succeeding kick-off Chase sent the oval between the visitors' goal posts. Nebraska made a touch-back and Erwin kicked off from the 25-yard line to the 45-yard line where Rogers caught the ball and ran 13 yards. The Boulders pounded the tackles for gains of two, our, five and four yards, but McMurray drove the ball when tackled and Nebraska fell on it. Folmer tried right end for gains and left tackle for one yard. Benedict failed to gain around left end and it was Boulder's ball on the 18 yard line. McMurray made gains of four, four and one yard over left tackle. At this point the Nebraskans kicked on Boulder's ends back formation, but the umpire overruled their objections. Rogers and Merton hit tackles for gains of two yards each and then Rogers was pushed over the line for a touchdown. Chase missed an easy goal. Score, Nebraska 6, Colorado 5.

The visitors kicked to Merton, who ran from the five to the twenty-five yard line. The ball was juggled and made a beautiful run of 23 yards around left end and only stopped when he went over the side lines. The ball was taken in 15 yards and Merton punted 10 yards. Nebraska hurled it back five yards. Boulder lost 10 yards on an off-side play, but gained the ball in the next scrimmage. Merton punted nine yards and Chase got the ball. Chase punted 26 yards and the ball was brought back 10 yards. Benedict ran 10 yards around left end but was tackled and dropped the ball. McMurray scooped it up and carried it back ten yards, but in turn dropped it when tackled. Tackles were tried by the visitors for gains of two and a half, one and one-

Chase lost five yards on an end criss-cross by Turner breaking through the line. Chase made a short punt against the wind and Nebraska got the ball. Folmer hit tackle for gains of three and one yard and then went through a big hole on the right side of center for a long run and a touchdown. Erwin kicked goal.

Colorado punted to Nebraska's 30-yard line. The ball was juggled and H. Garwood got it on the 15-yard line. Garwood hit tackle and guard for two gains of two and a half yards each. Merton hit the same hole for seven yards and then carried the ball over for a touchdown. Chase missed an easy goal. Score, 12 to 10.

Nebraska kicked the ball over Boulder's goal line. Chase punted to the 55-yard line and the ball was carried back 10 yards. Tackles were tried by Nebraska for two and a half yards and no gains and then Erwin punted 15 yards. The ball was on the 25-yard line when Nebraska tried a Princeton kick but failed. Chase punted from the 25-yard line to the center of the field. Benedict was given the ball and with splendid interference went 33 yards around left end. Tackles were tried for gains of 21 yards. Erwin was pushed across the line for a touchdown. He kicked goal.

THE PRINCETON GOAL.

Chase kicked to Nebraska's five-yard line and the ball was brought back 32 yards. Benedict failed to gain on left end but made one and a half yards over left tackle. A bad fumble was made. Benedict was given the ball and ran 38 yards around left end where he was tackled by Chase. Right end was tried but Rogers made Folmer lose two yards, a gain of two and a half yards through the line brought the ball to the 41-yard line. Nebraska tried the Princeton kick but lost twenty yards. At this point Miller, Carlson, and Thayer

A NEW FRATERNITY IN NEBRASKA

Phi Gamma Delta Starts a Chapter Here in Lincoln With Very Bright Prospects.

A FEW PARAGRAPHS OF EASTERN EVENTS.

Recommendations of the Board of Visitors For Some Changes at Annapolis naval Academy.

The chapter of Phi Gamma Delta, which has been long expected by the other fraternities of the University, was established last Friday night. The boys of the new chapter have worked hard for about two years to secure their charter, and their success is a natural result. The installation ceremonies were conducted by Clement A. Lawler of Kansas City, a "Fiji" from Cornell; Professor T. L. Lyons, also from Cornell; G. W. Burton of New York city, from DePauw; R. E. Moore, from Illinois Wesleyan; A. H. Sheldon, from Knox, and C. L. Sovereign, from Wisconsin. They were assisted in the ceremonies of initiation by Van Valin and Harvey, who went for the boys to the recent and, by the way, semi-centennial convention of the fraternity at Pittsburg, and who were initiated there.

The charter members of the new chapter are:

L. C. Mudge, A. H. Sheldon, A. C. Hancock, C. E. Barber, E. R. Harvey, F. Van Valin, C. R. Mudge, E. A. Rose, chapters became extinct. The chapters at Gettysburg and Allegheny had almost their entire membership in either army. Almost all of the old chapters have since been revived, and Phi Gamma Delta is now one of the strong, having forty-five active chapters. These are scattered principally through the east and south, the Nebraska chapter being as yet the most western.

Among the prominent alumni may be mentioned: Senators Vance and Fairbanks, President Moffat of Washington and Jefferson college and Coulter of Lake Forest, and John Clark Ridpath, General Lew Wallace and David D. Lloyd among authors.

The installation of a new "frat" generally calls forth more or less criticism. Many look with some opposition upon any new chapter since it means another rival. But little has been said derogatory to the new chapter, the Phi Gamma Delta, probably for the reason that there is little ground for criticism. It is conceded that the Phi Gamma Delta is nationally a credit to any institution and that the local chapter is made up of a set of good able fellows who will maintain the ideals of their fraternity.

THINGS NEEDED AT ANNAPOLIS.

The report of the board of visitors to the naval academy for 1898 to the Secretary of the Navy has been made public. The board consisted of S. G. Hilborn, Representative in Congress, California, President; Prof. Charles E. Munroe, Dean, Columbia University, Washington, D. C., Vice President; Eugene Hale, United States Senator, Maine; Doneison Caffery, United States Senator, Louisiana; Irving P. Wanger, Representative in Congress, Pennsylvania; Charles G. Wheeler, Representative in Congress, Kentucky; Dr. Amos Babecek, New Hampton, Ia.; H. E. Sadler, Sedan, Kas.; Prof. John L. Lampson, Peabody Normal College, Nashville, Tenn.; James Phillips, Jr., Fitchburg, Mass.; Edward C. Hinman, Battle Creek, Mich.; John M. Boyer, London, O., and Lieutenant C. M. Stone, U. S. N., secretary to the board.

The board made the following recommendations:

1. That the appointment of candidates be made by July 1 of the year preceding the recommendation for admission, in order to permit them to be more fully prepared.
2. That those cadets who pass into the line and Engineer Corps be required, on the completion of their first three years' cruise, to return to the academy and pursue a two years' course of advanced studies in either ordnance, marine engineering or electrical engineering.
3. That the department of seamanship be provided with a set of models of modern men-of-war, one of each type.
4. That the department of steam engineering be supplied with modern tools and machinery.
5. That the board approve of the general plan for the rebuilding of the academic buildings, and believes that if it be faithfully carried out the result will be benefitting the dignity of the nation.
6. That a continuing annual appropriation be made for rebinding, in half or full morocco, valuable books in the library.
7. That the efficiency of the board of visitors will be increased by the appointment of part of the board for two or more terms, so that at least some of the board may be familiar with the duties which the board is expected to perform.

MISS FLOOD'S GIFT.

Miss Cora Jane Flood, only daughter of the deceased millionaire, tendered as a gift to the University the fine Flood mansion at Menlo Park, with the grounds, consisting of 540 acres. The house is very beautiful and spacious, and the place is worth $250,000. The letter of gift provides that the residence and grounds be preserved intact and the income be used for some branch of commercial education.

half yards and it was Boulder's ball on Nebraska's 35-yard line. Chase punted across the goal line. Nebraska made a touch-back and punted from the 25 to the 35-yard line where it hit a Boulder player and rolled fifteen yards. Again Chase, with the assistance of a strong puff of wind, kicked across the visitors' goal line and the latter brought the ball to the twenty-five yard line. The first half was called with the ball on Nebraska's 12-yard line.

THE SECOND HALF.

On the kick-off for the second half Chase kicked to Nebraska's 25-yard line and the ball was punted back with the assistance of a strong wind to Boulder's 35-yard line. Rogers gained three yards over tackles and replaced Rothwell, O. Garwood and Rogers. After several plays the ball was on Boulder's 20-yard line and the visitors for the fourth time tried the Princeton goal. This time it was successful. The final score, Nebraska 23, Boulder 10.

A few more plays brought the ball to Boulder's 25-yard line in Nebraska's possession, when time was called.

Tonight in the gymnasium the Nebraska foot ball team was extended a reception by the University students. The reception, which was a most enjoyable affair, was followed by a dance.

F. M. Sanders, B. B. Adams, W. G. France, J. P. Rockafellow, and W. M. Hopewell. The chapter is pleasantly located in a cozy little house at 1391 H street, where the installation occurred.

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was founded at Jefferson college, Canonsburg, Pa., (afterwards united with Washington college), in May, 1848. As many of the students were from the southern states, extension was naturally in that direction, and of the first sixteen chapters established, eleven were in southern institutions. The war wrought serious damage to all fraternities and Phi Gamma Delta sustained its full share. Through the resulting business depression and the large enlistments of students, many
