The annual meeting of the state intercollegiate athletic association met in the office of Dr. Hastings last Saturday p. m. Delegates were present from each college, Doane, Hastings Wesleyan and the State University. Considerable attention was given to the perfection of the by-laws, many good points having been recently received by communication with eastern colleges.

Much interest is developing in the approaching oratorical contest. This is in part perhaps due to the fact that the Interstate contest comes to Nebraska this year. The following students have made preparation for competing in the local contest to be held soon: Miss Alderman; Messrs. Crouch, Berry, Tucker, Sams, Hanks, Waterman, Hawxby, Maxwell, Edgerton, Tobey, Ewart, Landis, Hamill, Bartas.

Resolved, That the combination of railroads to establish rates is undesirable and should be prohibited by law. The sides will be decided by lot.

In the late correspondence with debating association, Missouri insists that we insert in our by-laws an article which shall exclude from the interstate debates "negroes and women." It is said that Columbian recently dropped a debate with Tarkio upon finding that a woman would speak against them.

THE JUNIOR ANNUAL.

The Sombrero board is beginning to see the end of their work. All departments and organizations have been seen and if by chance any club of the University has been overlooked, it should see one of the editors at once.

All the juniors have been seen and most of them have had their pictures taken. If any man or woman, who expects to graduate in 1900 has not been seen by a member of the board, he should see one at once. Pictures must be handed in to the board at once.

The editors in speaking of the matter express disappointment at the lack of interest shown by students and especially those of the junior class toward the Annual. They say the material is not of a quality that it should be, although the work that has been done is very good.

Students are urged to hand in something. Everyone has an idea that can be worked up. A joke on some one or something of interest; a short story, poem or rhyme. Drawings, serious or comic, will be appreciated. Give your material to any member of the board or drop it in the mail box of one of the editors. The board is anxious for suggestions in regard to the book, and if you have a bright or original idea that you think they can use, make it known.

The time is growing short and all material must be handed in soon.
