EDITORIAL NOTES.

FROM the outlook at the present time Senior politics will not be so interesting this year as they have been in the past. So far there has not been enough of spirit shown by the Seniors to hold a single class meeting. Before the year ends, however, it may be found necessary for them to get together one or two times. Then affairs may grow lively.

IF the rate of increase in the number of our students continues for two years longer the chapel will be too small to accommodate them. It behooves us to be on the look out for a chapel building in the near future.

AGAIN the business manager complains that frequently papers are "borrowed" from the post office box in the hall and not returned. For all those who are too poor to subscribe for THE HESPERIAN we will keep a few extra copies in the office which may be read there but not taken out. It seems as if THE HESPERIAN must be thoroughly appreciated when some possess such an inordinate desire for it that they are not over-scrupulous as to how they acquire it.

THE cane rush has come and gone. There is rejoicing in the camp of the Sopomores and sorrow in the lodges of the Freshmen. While we do not intend to say anything against class spirit it seems to us that after all it is to be deplored that every victory for one class must inevitably be a defeat for another. Furthermore we desire to state to the victors that they should not become too haughty on account of the unexpected victory that they won. Celebrate your triumph but do not make yourselves obnoxious to those who have suffered defeat.

STRANGERS visiting the University cannot fail to be struck by the unattractive appearance that our campus presents. The walks are sadly out of repairs, the flower beds are neglected and the solitary post that supports the one electric light lamp looks as if a little paint might improve it somewhat. The drill grounds are entirely too small to accommodate the cadet battalion. We hope to see a few of the alleged ornamental trees removed so as to make more room. There is no regular place upon which the different ball teams can practice. No wonder that there is so little interest manifested in foot ball and baseball.
