

'85.—The Sunday Gazette (democratic), of Washington, D. C., for February 22, has the following comment in regard to the appointment of Professor Warner: "Said Senator Dawes: 'It is fortunate that President Harrison has selected a good man for superintendent of charities for the District of Columbia. It is a very important and responsible position and one which may be used to develop a more systematic administration of the district charities than has been possible heretofore. In my service in congress, and especially since my service on the appropriation committee having charge of the district bill, it has always been a difficult thing to ascertain just what amounts should be appropriated for charities. There are so many excellent institutions and it is difficult to divide between them so as to give each just the exact amount each should have out of the limited revenues of the district. I expect by the time the estimates for the next fiscal year are made out we shall have some great improvements from the experience the superintendent of charities will have had by that time.' "

'89.—The following is an extract from a letter received by Roscoe Pound from H. J. Webber:

So Williams and Bigelow are gone too? There were in our class five sci's and fourteen lits. All the scis—Williams, Bigelow (M. I.) Tingley, (E. R.), Miss Aughey and myself are now married. So far as I know only three lits have yet succumbed. It takes the sci's to get there in more ways than one, I can tell you.

'88.—Jos. R. Schofield was here to attend the reception and to see his. He is secretary of the Geneva Iron and Wind mill Co.

'90.—Mr. H. C. Peterson, lately returned from Fulton, Ill., will remain near his alma mater for a time.

Wm. Robertson '89, is working in a printing office at Portland, Oregon.

STRAY PICK-UPS.

Gund is drifting leeward.
The senior girls will wear gowns this term.
Gund spent part of his vacation in Kearney.
Mr. Senter visited at Fremont before going home.
N. M. Graham spent vacation with the legislature.
Mr. Jewell will not be in school during the spring term.
Don't ask Troyer or Stockton how they were "frozen out."
The freshmen pins are here. What do you think of them?
But two zoological students remained during the vacation.
Mr. Brook and Mr. Bulla are "Sigs" now and evermore.
Mr. Eagleson and Mr. Craig will not be in school this term.
Misses Dewese and Lewis spent part of the vacation at Omaha.
Dr. Geiger did the usual vacation cleaning of the main building.
Mr. J. C. Graham spent two days at Omaha instead of going home.
Miss DePue and Miss Maud Hammond visited at Hastings during vacation.
McDonald spent his vacation with Colson at the latter's home in Fremont.
D. W. O'Hearn, of DeLand, Ill., is visiting his brother Stephen O'Hearn.
The high school of Odell has been admitted to the major course for one year.

The Wesleyan gave a banquet to the winner of the state contest, Mr. Winter.

The drum major has increased his stature about two feet with a new cockade.

A number of students remained a few days after school was out to write essays.

Ask Mr. Whaley how he came to take the train for Omaha instead of for Columbus.

Skiles was elected to the stewardship of boarding club No. 1, vice Fogarty resigned.

The term examination in physics was a little too hard for the freshmen; they will try again.

Mr. Hooper skipped last day of the last term to go to Eagle to an I. O. G. T. convention.

The Mr. Maghee whose front name is Morgan, spent his vacation in an Ames-less sort of way.

Mr. Emory Clements quit school at the close of the winter term to work in the office of his brother.

Some of the boys tried to arrange for a dance the last Friday night of the winter term, but failed.

The department of physics has just finished setting up the finest spectroscope this side of Johns Hopkins.

Messrs. Chappell and Williams are attending the lectures at the law school in addition to their regular work.

Kirkwood & Miller, an Illinois implement firm, has presented the experiment station with a new garden drill.

Mr. Tefft spent part of the vacation in Ashland. His mother was not there this time. What excuse this time, Tefft?

An album of agricultural statistics of the United States has been received from the department at Washington, D. C.

The seniors' yell is all worn out, and like the class, a fake. The sophomore's is very good, but the freshman's takes the cake.

The members of '94 will be very much surprised to learn that a "Mr. McCormick" is a freshman. Mr. Beardsley can explain it.

Thirty copies of texts of Xenophon's Anabasis were received by the Latin school department in time for examination.

They say Mr. Marley likes nice girls, but Mr. Pollard, while he is not a lover of flowers, thinks a great deal of the rose.

Barber and Marley's visits to East Lincoln resemble Professor Hunt's exams in the respect that they are few but lengthy.

Those that desire to sign the constitution of the scientific club and who have not done so will call at the zoological laboratory.

Mr. Winter, the state college orator, was tossed by ten of Wesleyan's fairest and strongest young ladies at the banquet given him.

Although McCrosky is a democrat, he expects to vote for the republican's third ward candidate for alderman. Can't you guess why?

George Hall was not in school the last week of the term just passed. During that week and vacation week he worked in a bank in Stella.

Professor Bennett spoke a good word for the students and indirectly for the professors and librarian who influence the students to avail themselves of library privileges, when he said that the library of our university is used more by the 500