ECHOES.

Did you hear the Gaylord hall yell?

Did you get one of Flippin's pickles?

Tefft is the coming runner of the university.

Troyer redeemed himself in the 100 yard dash.

Did Eager pay for two fares one way, or for fair one two ways?

Three cheers for judges Marsland, Tingley, and captain Cornell.

Wesleyan had three representatives, two ladies and Cigar Ett.

The contest on the depot platform was exciting but no prizes were awarded.

When it comes to long distances, Sawyer is something of a sprinter himself.

Doane, during the relay race, Hurrah for Doane! We are the people! Oh my! Rats!

Did you notice the smile on the Cotner people when they were devouring that hard earned supper?

What is the matter with Wesleyan? She's all right. What does she care about prizes so long as she has the presidency.

Marsland makes an excellent judge, but he shouldn't "monkey" with the rope when Flippin has the other end, unless he wishes to make a circus of himself.

Hereafter, our wrestlers, Johnston and Flippin must be kept in the back ground until their opponents appear; otherwise there will be no contest, since the mere sight of these champions is sufficient to discomfit their antagonists.

Day in the fall term, instead of in the spring term as now. I think it would be much better, because it would give much more time to train for the state Field Day. Local Field Day coming so near to the state, sufficient time cannot be had to train. Believing that we may better our now good record of 14 out of a possible 21 I ask that this question of holding the Local Field Day in the fall term be given careful thought. While we cannot expect to raise our standard, yet some things can very well be improved upon. HERCULES.

I wish to say a word in regard to holding the local Field

It has been suggested by one of our philanthropic alumni that some kind of a club house on the campus would be a great boon to athletics. A small and substantial building could be erected at a cost of $200 in which might be a dressing room, a shower bath room, and a room to leave clothes and apparatus of all kinds necessary to the health and gratification of the athlete. There is certainly nothing impractical about such a scheme. The first thing necessary of course is to get permission of regents to locate the building. The money? O, that is easy enough. Our alumnus has promised to start the ball rolling by a handsome subscription and others of his kind will no doubt follow. Certainly we should be as much interested in this undertaking as those who have passed out from our midst. The advantage of such a building cannot be over-estimated. Often when we wish to practice an hour or two at foot ball or other games, we are hampered on account of not having a change of clothing at hand. With this building in our possession, all this might be remedied. A certain tennis association of the city here has a similar building which cost but $150. Let us hear what you have to say about the project.

The Cadet Encampment.

Thursday, May 14, a few minutes after noon, and after the conductor had shouted for the second time "all aboard," he seized Troyer, "the kid," tore him loose from his moorings, threw him into the train, and amid sobs and wailings that drowned the noise of the departing train, we left the Lincoln station, its platform soaked with the briny tears of many a sore hearted boy. The girls stood on the platform and waved their handkerchiefs as long as the train was in sight. At Crete the Uni. yell was lustily given to the edification of a few Doanites who were down to the train. The other college yells were also given, and the show moved on. At Wilbur McGinty was espied, caught and tossed, and on to Beatrice we went. "One hour for music and dinner." The band decided to do up the town, and so proceeded to do. They struck up a quickstep, as did likewise some farmer's team that liked music—at a distance. After eating every thing in the town we again boarded the special cars and moved on unmolested to our destination. Fairbury was out en masse to receive the cadets. The companies were formed on the depot grounds. The procession then moved to the camping grounds. The procession was led by the military band of Fairbury, followed by the cadet band, the battalion, the reception committee, company D of second regiment, citizens on foot, horseback, in carriages and baby wagons etc. etc. Of course it is understood that the university yell should be inserted in every two or three lines of this account, but the reader can do that to suit himself without committing any very great errors. Arriving in camp, a rush was made for the tents and for the straw, of which there was but half a wagon load. On an average, the boys that slept at all the first night had something over twenty straws apiece.

The people of Fairbury had provided a reception to the cadets on Thursday evening. Of course every one that was not on guard duty went down. The reception committee was assisted by Lieutenant and Mrs. Griffith and her sister,
