

The Music Department.

On Wednesday evening, December 16, 1891, the department of music, aided by Mr. and Mrs. Wurzburg, of this city, gave a very interesting and appropriate Mozart concert. With the exception of one number, the performers were all students of Mr. and Mrs. Menzendorf. Both chorus and orchestra also showed the benefit of hard work on the part of their leaders. It was the twenty-first recital given by the department and as usual the chapel was crowded. The following was the program:

Mozart's Turkish March,.....W. A. Mozart
UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA.
PIANO SOLO—Valse Arabesque,.....Waldteufel-Strezekzi
JESSIE F. BIGELOW.
TENOR SOLO—Sweet Content,.....Blumenthal
CHARLES ALEXANDER.
TRIO—Violin, Violoncello, and Piano,.....Wohlfahrt
MISSES JO, BELLE, AND DUTY VON MANSFELDE.
Biographical Sketch of Mozart.
MISS VESTA GRAY.
CHORUS—By Babylon's Wave (Psalm cxxxvii.),.....Gounod
OVERTURE—Telemia,.....De Place
UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA.
SOPRANO SOLO—Spring Song,.....F. Lynes.
MISS HATTIE V. RULIFFSON.
VIOLIN OBLIGATO, G. C. MENZENDORF.
DUO FOR TWO PIANOS—Fantaisie Lohengrin de
Wagner,.....Alberti
MRS. ERMINA D. C. MENZENDORF AND LOUISE POUND.
TENOR SOLO—Abendempfindung,.....W. A. Mozart
MR. JOSEPH WURZBURG,
MRS. WURZBURG, ACCOMPANIST.
VIOLIN DUET—Am Königssee Landler,.....Gungl
MR. D. N. LEHMER AND CARRIE M. McCLURKIN.
CHORUS—Song of the Vikings,.....E. Faning

Vacation Briefs.

Professor Fraser had a bout with the grippe in which the grippe was worsted.

Professor Hussey spent vacation preparing lectures on Greek archaeology.

Professor Hunt was kept close at home during the holidays on account of ill health.

Mr. Bates spent at the university what leisure time he had moving, and taking care of a cold left him.

Professor Wolfe dodged in and out of his room frequently. He read a paper before the State Teachers' Association on the "Philosophy of Education."

Chancellor Canfield, as any observer would say, took no vacation.

Miss Moore seemed to give her whole time to the art exhibit.

Professor Sherman made the English literature room his headquarters.

Professor McMillan, Miss Florence Smith, and Miss Green did not slight the library.

Miss Smith, our worthy registrar, was to be found now and then at her office.

The train on which Mr. J. C. Graham and Mr. Shue returned to school from Stella narrowly escaped wrecking.

Graham, (as the teachers crowded the halls)—"They're all about ten years too old."

Harry Barber, in the absence of Professor Bruner, did special work in the etymological department.

Mr. Barkley had charge of the dynamo during vacation, and furnished light at the Armory for the art exhibit.

Professor Fulmer visited his home at Gibbon.

Mr. Ransom who left school two years ago has begun work in the law and night schools.

Mrs. Menzendorf went home to spend the holiday season.

Miss Dempster spent a few days at her home at Geneva and returned in time to attend the meeting of the teachers.

On account of a wreck she did not reach her destination until late Christmas night.

Professor Fling went east on a vacation trip.

McFarland, Suddith, Cullom, Matthews, Dinges, and others skated to their hearts' content.

Miss Jeanette Wilson entertained her brother, Amasa Wilson, of Denver, during holiday week.

Mr. Cooley, from Neligh, returned to school December 30.

Mr. Rhodes, on account of the illness of his father and mother, spent the first part of his vacation at home.

T. Brugger returned, December 30, from spending his vacation at home.

The chancellor helped to organize, during vacation, the gamma, upsilon, iota, delta, epsilon society. The object of the society was to guide the travelers about the buildings.

Messrs. Coleman, Shue, and Mosher did most of the work in arranging the art exhibit.

Professor Wightman took a trip during vacation. He was as far east as Washington and Baltimore.

Mr. Lehmer's brother from Ord came to spend the first week of the new year.

Mr. Culver was on the sick list for a few days.

N. B. Barr was the guest of Mrs. Tucker, 2003 G street, on Christmas day.

Mr. Keim ate his Christmas turkey away from home the first time December 25, much against his will and contrary to expectation. A letter with a special delivery stamp which reached Lincoln December 24, laid in the office until the 26th and kept him in Lincoln two days too long.

W. L. Westerman spent the larger part of his vacation at Grand Island.

Nusz, Abbott, Westerman, Pillsbury brothers, and other university boys beat the Grand Island foot ball team, December 29, with a score 8 to 0.

Gillespie and the World's fair attended the teachers' association.

Sawyer worked at the power house of the Lincoln Street Railway Company.

Mr. Strode went to Litchfield, Nebraska, to complete his vacation.

Miss Chappel visited at Cotner.

G. F. Fisher wrote themes until January 1 and then bummed.

STRAY PICK-UPS.

Mr. Fling is teaching near DeWitt.

Dr. Geiger is still confined at home by illness.

Professor Wolfe is now a full-fledged professor.

Miss Hattie Hardin spent the vacation in St. Louis.

M. S. Pickle is night manager at the L. D. T. office.

Mr. Coleman has recovered from an attack of tonsillitis.

Dr. Giffin, office 11th and N sts. Residence 1504 S st.

The co-ed skating club tried the figure eight last Saturday.

Dr. C. E. Spahr, 1215 O Street, eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist.

A huge question mark adorns Skiles' latest acquisition in the feminine portrait line.

Professor Howard plays center field and sometimes pitches at Leland Stanford.

About twenty couple of university people spent a very enjoyable evening at Temple Hall, January 9. Social chats, card playing, and dancing were the features of the evening.