University vs. Lincoln.

On last Wednesday the university boys crossed bats with the Lincoln State League club and did so in a manner highly satisfactory to their friends. Although our boys did not win the game, in the words of our second baseman, the professionals had to get up on their dog-toes and dig. The university students turned out moderately well and worried the Lincoln's with their "infernal yells." If the professors would attend the ball games more, their interest would be appreciated by the ball boys. The ball playing of the Lincoln club was clean and gentlemanly. Heald's fielding and the batting of Dowling and Holmes were the features of the game.

The out-field took everything in sight without an error
