

It may not be generally known that credit is given this year for chorus work. There are two choruses in active operation here now under the leadership of Prof. and Mrs. Menzendorf. The elementary chorus meets every Tuesday evening, the advanced every Thursday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock. Both choruses are large but not as large as they should be, and it is desirable that more should register for the advanced chorus. Basses especially are wanted. Those who sing bass and those who do not should endeavor to do so by joining the chorus at once. There is no reason why we should not have a chorus that will make the arc light in the chapel flicker every time it sings.

Professor Easterday in conjunction with the band is endeavoring to organize a glee club to aid him in the band concert which will be sprung upon the public sometime in the near future. The efforts of Professor Easterday and the band in the concert given two years ago were so successful that the experiment will be tried again. The glee club will consist of male voices (accompanied by their owners) and the number is unlimited. The singers in the band will be selected first, then any one who has a good voice and is slightly versed in the songsters' art. It is the intention of the professor to make this glee club outdo the former one, and no one need be at all modest about applying for admission. Good voices and prospective good voices are wanted. Apply immediately to the committee, Oberlies, Pizey or Frank Brown, for admission.
