

would be glad to take this matter in hand and organize a crew which would do the University proud, as have all our other athletic organizations. Until this year it has been impossible to have a crew, but now, that Lincoln has one of the finest lakes in the west, there is no reason why we can not get to the front in this line, as we do in all others. But, as in all other things, now is the time to act.

EXCHANGE.

Harvard gives each year $87,000 to indigent deserving students.

A lady asked a gentleman how old he was. He replied: "What you do in all things." What was his age? XL.

The best endowed college in the country is Columbia with $9,000,000. Harvard and Cornell stand next with $8,000,000 each.

The Congregational clergymen at New Haven have asked President Dwight of Yale to put a stop to betting and gambling at the University.—Clipper.

Harvard's exhibit at the World's Fair will consist of pamphlets published by the University, examination and college papers and class-room work.—Silver and Gold.

The faculty of the University of Minnesota has decided to allow an address by some distinguished speaker to take the place of orations by graduates on commencement day.

A class has been formed at the University of Iowa, under the charge of Prof. Hale, for the study of the Psalms from a literary point of view.—Brown Daily Herald.

There is a movement on foot at the Leland Stanford University looking toward the formation of a girls' rowing club. Such innovations as this must come from the West.

The Chicago alumni of Northwestern University have raised an endowment fund of $2,500 to be used for securing the services of professional coaches for the athletic teams.

A crowd of students in the Columbia College School of mines, New York, who had been running a roulette game in the college building, were raided by the police last month.—Ex.

The faculty at Boston University have decided to credit the editor of the college paper with seven hours work per week on his course and to each of his assistants, two hours.—Ex.

Claude E. Wright of London, England, who was for three years a pupil of the late Mme. Blavatski, is trying to form a theosophy club at Yale. He has instituted one at Harvard.—Ex.

University of Wisconsin has challenged the University of Michigan to a joint debate to be held some time in March. The challenge has been accepted and arrangements are being made for the debate.—Echo.

The faculty of Wesleyan have forbidden any students with conditions not made up to enter any of the athletic teams, a regulation which is said to have seriously affected the college athletic interests.—Muhlenberg.

The supreme court of the United States is fast becoming a Yale tribunal. The last three judges appointed to court have been Yale men—Judge Brewer and Brown, of the class of '56, and Judge Shiras, of '53.—Mail and Express.

The University of Michigan chorus, numbering three hundred voices, has been invited to participate in the singing at the choral celebration which is to be given at the opening of the World's Fair next May.—Denison Collegian.

The students of Vassar college are soon to produce "Antigone" in the original Greek. A Yale professor is preparing the scores, and Prof. Max Dessaur is transposing the music, which was originally written for male voices.—Aegis.

It is estimated from authentic reports that Prof. Snow's chinch bug exterminator saved Kansas farmers $300,952.52. With this kind of a report the university ought to fare sumptuously at the hands of the present legislature. Our University is an honor and credit to our state and should be kept up to its high standard.—Santa Fe Monitor.

Prof. Edward B. Condon, of Dartmouth College, has offered a prize which is intended to elevate the standard of scholarship on the part of athletes of the college. It is valued at $60, and is to be given annually to that student who, being a member of one of the athletic teams, shall maintain the highest class standing throughout the year.—Ariel.

"Resolved that the peaceful annexation of Canada would be beneficial to the United States" is the question to be debated by Yale and Princeton. Princeton has selected the subject, and Yale is to have the choice of sides.—Ex.

Yale had better look to her laurels. To be able to pound a foot ball is not all there is in this world for a university.

The U. of P. has established a university settlement in one of the "slum" districts of Philadelphia. The object is to furnish collegians with the means of making a sociological study of the many phases of lower life in the vicinity, by providing them with rooms at a nominal price where they may live and associate with the paupers and criminals.—Daily Polo Alto.

The winning orator in the Kansas State University oratorical contest is guilty of plagiarism. He copied half of his oration from a minister's lecture on the "Distinctive Idea in Education" and got the thought for the other half from the