

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK at the present time consists of the School of Arts, the original college, founded in 1754; of sundry professional schools, to wit: The School of Law, the School of Mines, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, admission to all of which as candidates for professional degrees, is open to all students, whether or not they are college-bred men; and of the University Faculties of Law, Medicine, Mines (Applied Science), Political Science, Philosophy and Pure Science, which conduct all courses leading to the University degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy.

The point of contact between the college and the university is the senior year in the School of Arts, during which year students in the School of Arts pursue their studies, with the consent of the Faculty of Arts, under one or more of the University Faculties.

The various schools are under the charge of their own Faculties, and for the better conduct of the strictly university work, as well as of the whole institution, a University Council has been established.
