

LOCAL.

Professor Adams was ill last week.

A boys' banjo club is the latest addition to University music.

Prof. Ward attended the reunion at Williams College this month.

Mrs. L. E. Troyer, formerly of '95, is studying medicine in Chicago.

Miss Louise Pound has again resumed her work in the department of English.

A. P. Libbey, formerly a student in the University, visited Lincoln last week.

The University band did some good advertising work for the foot ball game Saturday.

October 11 the Botanical Seminar celebrated their seventh birthday with pie and rejoicing.

R. W. Thatcher and W. E. Kirke left for the World's Fair via the Rock Island last Monday.

A delegation of about a hundred students went down to meet the Baker boys Friday evening.

Capt. F. F. Tucker has returned from a two weeks' visit at the World's Columbian exposition.

Geo. R. Cullen, who has been working in the vineyard of Uncle Sam this summer, has entered school.

Friday, October 21, Chancellor and Mrs. Canfield entertained the faculty at their home, 1522 S street.

The Union and Delian societies will both adjourn Friday evening, the 10th, on account of the Palladian concert.

Greatly to the satisfaction of Miss Conklin and her students new blackboards have been put up in room 30.

Capt. Fred Clemments has re-entered the University after completing a fifteen days' "course" at the World's Fair.

It is said that Mr. M—— will give an oyster supper to the Kangaroo club in return for past favors and entertainments.

Miss Conklin's German Conversation Club is reported to be progressing at an astonishing rate. It meets Friday evenings.

G. H. Risser entered school Monday. He has been spending the summer visiting with the "Four Hundred" in New York.

The new University pins are striking and unique. The design is a pennant in white and crimson with U. of N. on it in gold.

J. Normon Shreve and Chas. C. Engberg, last year's students, have returned from their homes in Fremont, and will again take up their work.

The Philomathian society has closed down for repairs. The real cause was the lack of suitable rooms, this making it impossible to build up a strong society.

Miss Mabel Barton, a former student, was married at her home in Grand Island October 13 to Charles J. Slater, of Lincoln. Their home is at 2507 P street.

The Palladian Boys' Debating club has reorganized for the fall term. Mr. Benedict was elected president, Mr. Walker secretary. New students are invited to the club, which meets Saturday evenings.

The most artistic things seen about the hall this year are the Union programmes. They are in every way seemly, artistic, and fair to look upon. The Unions have an artist in their ranks somewhere.

Some "University Pins" are now on sale at Brown's. The design is quite neat, and, although the scarlet is brown, and the cream is very thin, the pins will, probably, be quite generally worn. If they are the best that can be secured, everyone should wear one. Be loyal.

The large attendance of both faculty and students at Ingersoll's lecture on Shakespeare speaks volumes for the taste and enlightenment of the University public. A great deal might be written and said about