

NOT TO BE READ.

Advice to the full-back should be, "Put your best foot forward."

WHY SHE DID NOT APPROVE.

Miss Fycken.—Do you like Miss X's conversation?

Miss Geeoi.—No, its like her best complexion—too highly colored.

ILLUSIONS.

In thick and fast the proflets passed,
And more and more and more—
The faculty to take their seats
Upon the rostrum floor.

The chapel stage, on which they went,
Was filled that day, I deem;
Or would, had not this strange event,
Alas, been but a dream.

It is to be hoped that some at least of the glee club will endeavor to pursue the even tenor of their way.

TO BE ENVIED.

Bill.—The late financial stringency does not seem to have affected foot-ball teams.

Jack.—No, they abound in V's as much as ever.

KINDLY MEANT.

That worthy editor-in-chief,
Who writes of us so chilly,
Should look in some good lexicon
Ere using words so "illy."

BEEN THERE HIMSELF?

Jenne Dark.—What a fine German student Mr. Jones is. All his translations are blank verse.

Bill Le Doux.—So are those in the library.

Work in freshman history reminds one of a thin rivulet of text meandering through a wilderness of outlines.

"Seems like this is not a world of ideals but of reels," said the police judge as the twenty-fifth inebriate was brought before him.

PART OF THE GAME.

Little Johnny.—Your big brother swears an awful lot, doesn't he?

Little Billy.—Sh! He's practicing to go on the foot-ball team.

WHO WOULD?

Wantsum Moore.—There's one thing I don't mind in the least to brush against.

Sophy Moore.—Yes?

Wantsum Moore.—A good stiff one after a morning at the blackboard.

Let us be thankful that the coming of winter seems to have put an end to the "sand burr" season.

IN LINGUA PROPRIA.

The student astronomical who'll soon
Be 'starring' in a meteoric flight
To some athletic or some learned tune,
Destined to glorify the old maroon,
Now 'suns' him in the limpid autumn light
Or 'moons' in droves into the mellow night,
Trying to planet in the prof's despite
How he can comet to skip class next noon.

Spain has ten Universities, Italy has seventeen; Germany, twenty-one; Great Britian, eleven; Russia, eight; the United States has three hundred and sixty. What is the matter with the U. S.?—Ex. Nothing in particular, but if you will read one of our other exchange articles you will see that it is "different in the morning."
