LOCAL.

Bob Graham is back with us again.

There is some talk of organizing an indoor base ball club.

Prof. Lloyd has recently organized a class in "history of chemistry."

Miss Dora Zediker has left school and expects to teach in the spring.

The Chase and Wheeler contest will take place on the 6th of January.

Dr. Curtis lead chapel exercises the first three mornings of last week.

The "Nebraska Athlete" arrived safe and sound from the World's Fair.

Miss Metsa Crandall is improving but is still unable to attend her classes.

Miss Amy Shively of the Union has withdrawn from the University to teach.

Grace White of Omaha, a last year's student, is at present a guest of Helen Bain.

Prof. Fling delivered the address at the dedication of Fall City's new school house.

"Cicero" Johnson returned to school Monday, after an extended Thanksgiving visit.

Drill in the manual began last week. On this account only two companies can drill at a time.

Judges Hastings and Giffin recently delivered lectures before the students of the law school.

We couldn't keep Prof. Peterson away long. He was able to meet his classes on Wednesday.

The Y. M. C. A. sent eleven men to the state convention at Fremont. The delegates report a very profitable meeting.

Dr. Maybe of Boston, lectured before the mission board last Saturday on the subject of India.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Latin and Greek departments for the execution of their parts of the quarto-centennial program. Somebody thought very much of Bert Wilson's wheel. The result is that Bert walks.

Fay Bobertson has returned from his home, where he has been sick for the past three weeks.

Twenty couples enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Friel, Thanksgiving. All reported an enjoyable time.

Miss Bell, Messrs. Hardy, Fisher and Whiting were voted into the Palladian Society last Friday eve.

Ben Mathews has been held down pretty fast the last week. We hope the "grip" will leave him soon, however.

Dean Reese, of the Law School, has been absent from his work a week on account of the serious illness of his wife.

The musical department will give a recital in the chapel Monday evening, Dec. 18. An excellent program has been prepared.

If you are in Grand Island during vacation don't fail to take in the "magic lantern" show, to be given by Searson and Corbin.

The Nebraskan now has an average of one local per edition. If it can only find local editors enough the result will be charming.

Prof. Sherman's Sunday afternoon lectures are attracting a great many students. Everyone feels the importance of what the professor says.

Chancellor Canfield spoke at Wahoo Thursday, the 7th, and on Saturday afternoon addressed the Y. M. C. A. convention at Fremont.

The P. G. D. C. have lately organized themselves into a reading circle, the object being to better acquaint themselves with the current literature of the day.

The following officers were elected by the Maxwell Club for the next term: president, C. F. Neal; vice-president, G. Q. M. Richardson; secretary, W. F. Cramb; treasurer, W. M. Cain; sargeant-at-arms, J. Kelsey.