

At the beginning of each half the ball must be kicked at least ten yards into the opponents' territory, and if it goes into touch twice in succession before being touched by an opponent, it goes to the other side for kick-off.

If a player is off-side within opponents' ten-yard line, and touches the ball, it goes as a touch-back to the other side.

No delay arising from any cause whatever shall continue more than three minutes.

In case of a foul or any violation of rules, the offending side surrenders the ball for a down, or if it does not have the ball, gives up ten yards of territory, or if this would carry the ball over the goal line, one-half of the distance to the goal.

For the offense of throttling, intentional foul tackling etc., the penalty is the surrender of 25 yards or a free kick to the other side.

If a player interferes with an opponent, trying for a fair catch, the opposing side shall be given 15 yards and a free kick or down.

No momentum mass plays are allowed in which more than three men start before the ball is in play nor are they allowed to group for that purpose more than five yards back of the ball.—Amherst Student.
