

Last Friday evening the Palladian girls were in charge of Palladian hall, and not a quarter of the large crowd which came to see them were able to get inside the doors, although the aisles were packed and a large number of the boys hung on the mouldings. Each one of the latter wore that self-satisfied look of having paid the price of admission—one man?

The Ideal Mandolin Club was stationed in the front part of the hall and entertained the society with several selections. The program was in two parts—the first one consisted of tableaux, recitations and music while the second enlightened the visitors in regard to several phases of university life. Here was to be found the 'neat and orderly' boy in search for a roommate, the Welden boarding club and the boy who was 'worked' by every organization in the college.

The entertainment was a success in every way and the only thing against it was that such things don't come often enough.

It is rumored that the seniors are going to hold a reception in the parlors of the Conservatory on Monday night. The purpose of the "blow-out" is to present the Chancellor with a cane that he is to use to keep the seniors from getting the big head.

It was a false report. The floor of the Palladian Hall did not shake under its weight of wisdom and avoirdupois, during the girls program. If any one noticed such a disturbance, a satisfactory explanation might better be that it was a shudder occasioned by the French spoken there.

To whom it may concern: The Delians would like to have it distinctly understood that they are very much alive with no immediate intentions of dying, either. Those with an opinion to the contrary will be thoroughly convinced of their mistake if they will visit the chapel any Friday night.

To pull the wool over your eyes is contemptible, but to pull it over your feet is sensible. Herpolshhimer & Co. will pull the wool over your feet in the shape of sox or stockings—decided values in woolen hosiery for men and women at 17c, 25c and 35c a pair.

Mr. Horace T. Pitkin one of the traveling secretaries of the student volunteer movement for foreign missions will address the Christian associations Sunday Nov. 25. The meeting will be held at 4 p. m. in the chapel. Mr. Pitkin's talk will be instructive and of great interest to those who are interested in missions.

The night was dark, the moon was hidden, all good citizens were peacefully slumbering. A little band of students crept over the hill and crawling among the ghostly tomb-stones, dugged in the cold, cold ground and took up a stiff. This was done by students of that christian college over the hill. It was all right, they did it. But oh, what a cry would have gone up had the students of this demoralizing institution been caught in such an act.

Misses Ferguson and Evans have come to Lincoln for the purpose of starting a dancing class. These ladies are highly recommended, having taught for a number of years in the military department of the Missouri State University, also in Galveston, Texas. They wish to permanently locate in Lincoln. They will make a specialty of the waltz and solo fancy dances for children. Children classes will meet Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 4:30 p. m. Adults class will meet Monday, Thursday and Friday at 8 p. m. All classes meet in Lansing theatre block. Private lessons given. For further information address 336 South Thirteenth street.

A Fountain Pen.

The users of fountain pens need only to try one of the celebrated Waterman Fountain Pens in order to become its friends. It combines good workmanship with good material and is by far the best pen in the market. Call at Cooperative Book Co's. and have its superiority over all others explained to you.

READ THIS.

Students, we solicit your patronage at Westerfield's barber shop. First class work in every respect.