WHAT is the matter with '97? Six weeks ago they accepted a challenge from '98 for a relay race Field Day. The latter has chosen its runners, but the Sophomores seem to be inclined to let the matter drop. Are they too lazy, or can't any of them run?

THE HESPERIAN is highly pleased to note that the new University of Montana in looking about for its first Chancellor, has expressed a decided preference for Prof. Hodgeman of our own faculty. We would all be sorry to have Prof. Hodgeman leave us, but at the same time the compliment is appreciated.

IN passing through the University corridors one frequently hears certain students talking about representative University men. If a football manager is elected or a delegate to an oratorical convention is chosen, these people who take it upon themselves to judge whether the football manager is a representative man or not should examine their own records a little more closely, and see whether, if they were elected to the same position, they would perform the duties of that office half as creditably. These self-styled critics would do well to look into their own characters a little more closely.
